

JEWISH NEW YEAR.—Thursday being the Jewish New Year, and consequently an important Jewish holiday, Asa and Henry Leopold, true to the tradition and the religion of the nation to which they belong, will keep their stores closed to-day.

The editors and reporters of this great family journal passed a unanimous vote of thanks yesterday evening for a large and exceedingly handsome bequest left at this office during the afternoon, bearing a card on which was written, "Compliments of Mrs. George Hawkesworth."

Just at present the indications are that Duluth will soon be in possession of its first city directory, a thing she should have had long ago. F. W. Church, representing R. L. Polk & Co., of Detroit, Mich., publishers of state and city directories, is about finishing the canvassing here, and has received subscriptions for about 200 copies. The books will be delivered some time next month.
