

Ordinance Is Valid

Max Bloom, charged with keeping a second hand store, was found guilty yesterday by Judge Powell and the city license governing the keeping of such stores declared valid. The case was taken under advisement last Saturday and has been before the court for some time. Bloom will appeal