

GOOD OUT OF GLOOM.

Dr. Eisenberg Tells the Hebrews It Will Come.

The inauguration of Rosh-Hashono drew a large number of Reformed Jews to the hall in the old Parson's block last night. Rev. Dr. Eisenberg of Chicago delivered an address that was full of good points, and the musical program was very pleasing. In addition to singing by the congregation, Miss Meinhold of West Superior sang a solo, Misses Kennedy and Meinhold and Joe Saddler sang a trio, and numerous numbers by the choir, which consisted of Misses Meinhold and Kennedy, Mrs. Heller, and Messrs. H. Silberstein and Saddler, added to the evening's enjoyment.

Dr. Eisenberg drew his lesson from the business depression that has been upon the country during the past two or three years, and pointed out wherein blessings would follow. He pictured the gloom that had been thrown over many a household, and contrasted it with the gifts from God that await those who earnestly seek to do good and serve their fellow men.

After the services were over, most of the congregation adjourned to Mr. Silberstein's residence, where a delightful evening was spent. Light refreshments were served. The Reformed Jews will hold services at 9:30 this morning. No more services will be held until Thursday of next week, when they will observe the day of atonement.

The orthodox Jews celebrated the advent of the new year in their usual manner, and will hold services this morning and again at night.
