"The Long Arm"

is a delightful bit of fiction—perhaps you have read it. The Long Arm is likewise a bit of stern reality—perhaps you have it. Do you experience difficulty in getting coat or shirt sleeves long enough? Are you tall, short, fat or slim, or otherwise unobbliging in shape for the average shop? Your underwear. Does the bifurcated portion of it require pins, darning needles, etcetera, to hold the gathered surplus intended for a bigger person? Don't buy any old size. Get the sort made for you. In a word—trade here.

MILLIONS OF TROUT.

Willow Brook Hatchery Well Stocked. This season. The state game and fish commission reports that an unusually large number of trout eggs are being hatched at the Willow Brook hatchery. There are 1,700,000 on hand now, which is a larger number than they have had during the whole four years past. This is caused by the large number of breeders secured by the hatchery people last fall. The eggs will be hatched during the winter and the young fishes will be given homes in divers waters throughout Minnesota, in the spring.

ST. LOUIS CLUB SOLD

BRUSH IN CONTROL OF THE BASE BALL FRANCHISE OF THE BROWNS.

ANSON ALSO INTERESTED.

FORMAL TRANSFER OF THE PROPERTY BY VON DER AHE MADE PUBLIC.

DEAL STILL OFFICIALLY DENIED.

It is Generally Accepted in Base Ball Circles, However, as an Accomplished Fact.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 5.—Late this morning Mr. Von der Ahe and Muckenfus were found and emphatically denied in toto having seen Mr. Brush or Schmidt, and even stated they do not know whether the two Indianapolis gentlemen are in the city, and that no deal had taken place as yet.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 4.—The formal transfer of the St. Louis Browns was made to John T. Brush at 4 o'clock today. Messrs. A. G. Spalding, C. C. Spink and A. C. Anson are also said to be interested in Brush in the purchase of the Browns.

Whether or not John T. Brush and William H. Schmidt, of Indianapolis, are in St. Louis tonight cannot be stated as a certainty. It is, however, generally believed that they arrived today to confer with President Chris Von der Ahe for the purchase of the St. Louis base ball club. All afternoon and tonight the hotels have been assiduously searched, but up to midnight no traces of Mr. Brush and Mr. Schmidt had been found. It is reported that the two gentlemen refused to register at a hotel in the city this evening, in company with Mr. Von der Ahe and Secretary S. B. Muckenfus, hired a hack by the hour to drive them about the city, thereby enabling the quartette to talk over the matter in secrecy. Notwithstanding the report that Mr. Brush proposes to buy the Browns, another deal seems to be on foot.

At 10:30 this morning, Mr. Von der Ahe, Secretary S. B. Muckenfus, Samuel F. Myerson, Gus Frey and George Munson met at the Lindell hotel to talk over the sale of the Browns. When the meeting adjourned it was announced that $50,000 would be turned over to Mr. Von der Ahe within the next day or two by Myerson and his syndicate, and in return they would receive a clean bill of sale. Messrs. Frey and Myerson both stated tonight that Mr. Von der Ahe had treated them fairly in the matter and that the prospects were exceedingly bright for the club being in control within the next day or two. A diligent search of the city tonight has signally failed in finding Von der Ahe.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Dispatches from Indianapolis indicate that a plan to acquire the St. Louis club in the interest of prominent base ball people of the Indiana city has taken definite form. If the deal is consummated, it is closed, as was reported in today's dispatches.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—A. G. Spalding, Capt. Anson and James A. Hart, manager of the Chicago ball team, all said tonight that they were in no manner connected with the purchase of the St. Louis club, and know nothing about it in any way.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—A special to the Tribune from Indianapolis says: The deal by which John T. Brush, president of the Cincinnati Ball club, today gained control of the St. Louis National League team is purely a business deal. The deal has not been made by the owners as John T. Abell Sells an Option—Has Lost $100,000.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Lovers of base ball have not been stirring up much excitement by the announcement that Charles H. Abell, by purchase and option had secured the Brooklyn base ball club. It would in all probability take the team away from Esplanade park, and the club would be sold to the city. Abell has been the principal factor and stockholder of the club since it was first organized at Brooklyn. He has had an option on the club for fifteen years. He has been in base ball for fifteen years. He has been in base ball for fifteen years. He has been in base ball for fifteen years.

MAGNATE BYRNE DEAD. One of the Men Who Evolved Modern Base Ball. NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Charles H. Byrne, who was president of the Brooklyn Base Ball club, died at his residence in this city today. Death was due to a complication of ailments which he had contracted since Monday of last week, and death had been expected.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Charles H. Byrne, who was president of the Brooklyn Base Ball club, died at his residence in this city today. Death was due to a complication of ailments which he had contracted since Monday of last week, and death had been expected. The history of modern base ball is contemporaneous with the active life of Charles H. Byrne, and to him has been given the credit for the purchase of the Brooklyn club, which have given it its national character. Mr. Byrne received his education at St. Francis Xavier. After graduation he engaged as a newspaper reporter. In 1883 he branched out as a base ball manager and member of the Brooklyn Base Ball club, which organized the Brooklyn Base Ball club, and entered the Interstate League. In 1887, while having associated himself with Messrs. Abner Doubleday and William Collins, of Louisville, and was turned out of the Cleveland league team, paying the entire sum of $100,000. He was successful in 1888, and in 1889 he bought out the entire Metropolitan team. This deal was quickly followed by the purchase of the Brooklyn club and Bob Carruthers from the latter club for $30,000. Byrne's liberality and enterprise made him a prominent figure in the annals of the American association in 1890. After this the Brooklyn club joined the American association and competed for the pennant. Mr. Byrne made the American association a success in 1891, and in 1892 he met it half way in a consolidation agreement.

FIVE ON NEW YEAR'S.

Century Record Established for the First Time. Usually when a cyclist starts out and makes a century run in Minnesota on New Year's day he is reasonably certain of success. This was not the case, however, on Saturday last, as five centuries were made on the day by St. Paul, Minneapolis and Nerstrand riders, and it has become necessary to reckon the time of start and stop in each case. GLENNINGS HERE AND THERE FROM THE FROZEN DIAMOND.

Law Whistler, last year with Detroit, will manage the Springfield (Ill.) club of the Interstate League this year. Whistler is an old leaguer, having played with the St. Louis and New York teams. St. Louis is the home of more managers than any other city in the country. In the National League alone "Billy" Joyce, of the New Yorks, and Patzy Tebeau, of the Cleveland, have from there. And in the minor leagues there are many others.
