

GAMBLES IT AWAY.

---

Mr. Simon Accuses One of His Agents of Misappropriation.

Fredrick Sjoselius was arrested yesterday on complaint of Wolf Simon, maker of the Tom Reid cigar. The defendant is charged with appropriating to his own use $515.55.

Sjoselius was arraigned in police court, and his examination was set for next Thursday, and bail was fixed at $1,000. It was not furnished.

Sjoselius, it is alleged, was working for Mr. Simon as agent and collector. While thus employed, the complaint states, he collected the amount of money named in Duluth and on the range, and embezzled it.

Mr. Simon told the county attorney that when Sjoselius was confronted with the theft he admitted that he had used the money in gambling at some of the range towns.