

LAKE BREEZES.

---

Kelly's dye works for sick clothes.

Shelled nuts, French fruits angelique, &c., at Seekin's.

J. Hammel & Co. received a car load of horses today.

Order your Thanksgiving flowers, candies and ice cream, all at the same place, Seekins'.

Stephen Lauf, whose home is near Philadelphia, died Saturday night at St. Luke's hospital of erysipelas. His remains will be shipped east.

The funeral of George Dinkel, who died Saturday of typhoid fever, will take place this afternoon from the home of his parents in Kenwood park.

George Randall of Superior, was arrested yesterday afternoon and locked up charged with being drunk. Randall said that Superior is an awful dull proposition on Sunday.

Genevieve Snedden, the 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Snedden, died yesterday morning at her home, 1512 East Fourth street. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, and burial will be made in Forest Hill cemetery.

Through an error, B. J. Cook, the well-known Superior street clothier, was quoted as having declared that several persons would test the constitutionality of the runner's ordinance in the courts. The remarks should have been credited to Ben Katz, head clerk in the clothing store managed by Moses Cook, at 409 West Superior street. B. J. Cook says that so far as he is concerned he is not in favor of "barbers," and would prefer that the ordinance regulating them be enforced.

---