One of the prettiest home weddings of the season and an affair of great prominence in local Jewish circles, took place last night when Miss Etta Pauline Cook, youngest daughter of Mrs. Ida Cook, became Mrs. Hyman Y. Josephs. The marriage was celebrated at the home of the bride's mother, 20 West Third street.

It was about 5:30 o'clock when Flaaten's orchestra struck up the wedding march. The bride came down the broad stairs on the arm of her brother, B. J. Cook, and the ceremony was performed under a canopy of smilax and maiden hair fern in the front parlor. Rabbi F. Rosenbaum, of San Francisco, read the service and he was assisted by Rabbi Helpurn, of this city.

The bride was charming in a gown of duchesse satin with real lace trimmings. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. A. I. Shapira, of St. Paul, matron of honor, and Miss Henrietta Cook, another sister, and Miss Mae Levy, bridesmaids. The matron of honor wore a handsome dress of white satin with pearls. Miss Cook had a fawn colored gown and Miss Levy was daintily gowned in white chiffon over pink. Nathan Shapira was the ring bearer and Miss Ray Cook and Miss Gertrude Josephine the flower girls.

The rooms were tastefully decorated, smilax and maiden hair fern with white carnations predominating. Mr. A. Goldman, of Minneapolis, was best man and the groom's other attendants were Julius Cook and Sig. Y. Josephs.

After the ceremony a banquet was served in the dining room. After the banquet a reception was held.

Mr. Josephs, the groom, is the principal owner in the Duluth Iron & Metal company and has lived here since 1886. The bride is a popular girl in Jewish social circles. The couple received a large number of costly and useful gifts. The groom presented his bride with a sunburst set with thirteen diamonds. Mr. and Mrs. Josephs left at 11:10 for a six weeks' trip in San Francisco and the west and later will be at home at 725 East Third street, a home recently purchased by the groom.
