PINEY WOODS.

Healthful, But Not Always Curative

To go to the piney woods is a help, but if one carries along the bad habits of food and drink that have caused sickness, the piney woods will not produce a recovery.

Coffee drinking caused blindness in a Virginia gentleman, and his remarkable experience is worth reading. "I have been a coffee drinker since my earliest remembrance. If I missed coffee at a meal it brought on headache. This should have shown me that I was a victim to a drug habit. Finally, wakeful, restless nights came on. After dinner I was always drowsy and after sleeping would waken stupid and morbid, and felt as though I had been drugged, and when this feeling wore off nervousness and restlessness would set in until I drugged myself with coffee again.

At last my eyesight began to fail. Some of the best optical specialists agreed that I had an affliction of the optic nerve, and after two or three years treatment my eyes slowly lost their power and I became almost sightless.

I was advised to go to a pine woods near the sea in a most isolated place. This I did, and lived there for two years without any visible benefit. I gave up all hope of recovery until last spring a friend expressed the belief that the coffee I drank was the cause of all of my trouble. He had been a slave to it and had been unable to find relief until he quit and took up Postum Food Coffee.

His experience startled me, and I decided to try the change, although I had but little faith in its merits. My first cup of Postum proved delicious and was a great surprise. It was evidently well made. I had not the slightest trouble in leaving off coffee for the Postum filled its place perfectly.

During the past six months I have gained in flesh, my sallow complexion has become clear, and my eyesight gradually improved until now I am able to read and write. My mind is once more clear and active, and I no longer suffer from sleepless, nervous spells. You can imagine I feel grateful for my restoration." W. Harold Fenton, Brighton, Va.

A Notable Sale of Fine Dress Goods.

The holiday season will make many demands upon our floor space, and, particularly the Dress Goods aisles as well as other prominent places throughout the house—we must have plenty of room to display our magnificent holiday stock (by far the largest ever shown by us) of holiday goods which are being opened up daily—to get this room many staple lines will be reduced and hurried out of the store at much below usual ruling prices. First on the list is Dress Goods. We place on sale tomorrow—Monday—many important lots taken from our immense Dress Goods stock; the values will readily appeal to women folks who want fine dress fabrics at little prices. In our regular advertisement in this issue will be found details of prices and kinds with regular and reduced prices. SILBERSTEIN & BONDY CO.

Prophecy.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat: By 1904 it is thought that Senator Teller will be ready to lead a repentant band of bolters from the headquarters of Salt creek back to the Republican National convention.
