

DULUTH SOCIALLY.

One of the handsomest and most notable receptions of the year took place at the beautiful home of Mrs. Ralph N. Marble Tuesday afternoon, given by Mrs. Charles A. Towne, Mrs. E. H. Moor and Mrs. Arthur J. Borchers. Ladies called during the afternoon and were entertained amid an environment of fragrant beauty. The color scheme, green and white, was effectively carried out in the floral decorations. One of the prettiest features of the affair was the transformation of the spacious veranda into an Oriental bower, with the assistance of Turkish hangings, pillows, low chairs and luxurious couches. Miss Janet L. Smith and Miss Berenice Crowley, in dainty white gowns, presided here and served punch. Flaaten's orchestra was also stationed on the porch and played during the afternoon.

Mrs. Henry C. Marshall and Miss Cornelia Smith assisted in receiving and the Misses Helen Marble, Virginia Sanford, Corinne Davis and Carrie Barrett were in the dining room. The decorations were exquisite in conception and effect and harmonized with the general scheme. The sideboard, a massive piece of furniture, was banked with floral arrangements, and a huge basket of the same flowers hung directly over the table from the chandeliers, the white clusters relieved by trailing green ferns. Another detail that enhanced the effect of the dining was the decoration of the enlaid table, upon which was a magnificent spread of Mexican drawn work, over green silk.

Some exquisite gowns were observed. The young ladies were all in white and the hostesses wore Marbe, Virginia, white and white; Mrs. Towne, Brussels lace, over white mousseline de sole; Mrs. Moor, a beautiful black and white gown.

The only consideration that marred the pleasure of the occasion was the regret felt from the knowledge that two of the hostesses, Mrs. Towne and Mrs. Moor, are shortly to leave Duluth. Both ladies will live in New York.

Many Duluth people will be interested to know that Lieutenant E. Hugh Cooke, formerly of Duluth, now of the regular army, is to be married Aug. 10, to Miss Margaret Gamble, of Westport, Pa. Mr. Cooke was in the employ of the First National bank at the outbreak of the Spanish war and was a member of the state guard at the time. After the close of the war he enlisted in the regular army.

Miss Mabel Rieley was tendered a most enjoyable surprise party Monday evening at her home on Fifth avenue West. Games and dancing were the features of the evening, followed by refreshments. Those present were: Misses Mabel Rieley, Belle Gagnon, Mamie Santaric, Lizzie Welch, Louise Duclou, Laura Beatty, Oella Mayhew, Marion Illingsworth, Helen Goshaw, Mamie Donovan, Lizzie Donovan, Rose Gagnon, Fern Rieley, Della Duclou, E. Mori, Grace Walker, Lillian Sawyer, Mabelle Campbell, Lottie Fruel, Alice Champion; Messrs. Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Howard entertained a small party of Duluth and Superior friends at U-Auto-Rest camp on Park Point. The guests were: Misses Minnie Barnes, Anna Nelson, Belle Cree, Margaret Campbell, Minnie O'Dell, Thora Nelson, Emily Campbell; Messrs. Harry Howard, Burch, Norman Campbell.

About thirty of the young friends of Warren Smith called at his home, 2609 West Third street, Wednesday night, and spent a jolly evening. Those present were: Misses Florence Thiel, Lena Miscampbell, Luella Smith, Alice Bradford, Elizabeth Lyles, Selma Swanson, Della Evans, Mabel Shlete, Lulu Olson, Maybell Cummins, Elsie Hartman, Ella Smith, Catherine Peffer, Ida Hagen, Eva Miscampbell, Gertrude White, Minnie Nelson, Edith McCann, Loretta Ball, Kate Lyles, Violet Burke; Messrs. E. A. Page, John E. Allen, of Missoula, Mont., Fred Gravelle, Eugene La Page, Joseph Nelson, Sam Lavick, Albert Anderson, Dan Peterson, Lloyd Smith, Arthur Smith, Dick Watson, Fred Hopper, John Johnson, Albert Noyes, George Duell, John Oreckovsky, Joseph Deln, George Deln, Warren Smith, James Lavick, Howard Fre-do, Thomas Welch, Roy Jackson, Percy Nelson, Roy Graham, Fred Barker, Toy Statford, Frank Schultz, Clarence Joanne, Edward Trafflet, Joseph Poland, Charles Johnson.

The lawn party given by Miss May Sherwood last Wednesday evening at her home in Glen Avon was the most beautiful affair of the kind ever seen in Duluth. The young ladies, assisted by her summer guests, Miss Decker and Miss Plovman, of Evansville, Ind., Miss Brocknberg, of Lafayette, Ind., and Miss Grimsey, of Culpeper, Va., received on the front gallery, the side of the house, forming the background, was covered with white, over which hung as a drapery the ever graceful ground pine. A spot, red glow from the electric lights above cast a mellow radiance over the faces of the fair young hostesses as, gowned in white and carrying American Beauties, they welcomed the guests. At a distance from the house, in a group of stately pines, floated out upon the evening air the strains of Flaaten's orchestra.

The light effects were fairly dazzling. At the head of the main terrace stairway, where the lantern light seemed to converge, stood a white arch, set on either side on the arch itself with electric lights of red and white. Beautiful was the scene when a crowded car full of young ladies and gentlemen began to move in procession from the north entrance towards the arch, very column of grace and gladness in the soft light of summer evening dress. Against the center crest of the first terrace and at either entrance to the grounds were blazing and sparkling great pine fires, on high raised hearths, that told cheer and welcome. Through the electric arch, flanked on either side by low gateways of green and bloom, the guests wound their way. Vines enclosed the porch on all sides, its background was the front of the house laid in white, and this was softened by tracery of ground pine, fancifully hung against it. This porch ceiling was set with lanterns and electric lights, under the glow of which stood the five young hostesses of the evening.

On the south side of the house a beautiful refreshment canopy had been spread in long tent form, whose interior sides were panelled with a green of small spruce, and whose centerpieces was a great round table of snow-white surface, fairly aborn with white sweet peas. In a rustic arbor, midway down the south lawn, six young ladies, using soft Japanese lights, served punch from the flowing bowl wreathed in vines. One hundred and fifty guests were present.

The Tyler-Tonning Concert company will leave tomorrow at 9 o'clock on the Bon Ami for Port Arthur and Fort William, where the quartette will be heard in the famous Song Cycle. The personnel of the quartette is as follows: Mrs. James McAuliffe, prima donna soprano, Miss Antonette West, contralto; Mr. George Tyler, tenor and Mr. W. P. Prophet, baritone; Mr. Gerard Tonnings, composer, pianist, director, and will be heard in instrumental numbers. The people of Port Arthur and Fort William have a decided treat in store and Duluth is to congratulate the city has musical talent which will invade a foreign country and undoubtedly bring fresh laurels to her already high musical reputation.

Court Pride, of Duluth, No. 208 I. O. F., will give an entertainment Monday evening Aug. 5. Being young friends and the Independent Order of Foresters will give a picnic and dance at Lester Park Aug. 2nd.

The musical event of last week was the song recital by Miss Estelle Solon, of Superior, at the Pilgrim Congregational church, Wednesday evening. There was a fair attendance, and the audience was charmed with the musical quality of the young woman's voice, the higher tones of which were particularly true and sweet. A feature of the recital was the appearance, for the first time before a Duluth audience, of Professor Weeks, the new director of the First Pilgrim church. His song, "My Deer", was well interpreted at his hands. Mrs. Weeks and Miss Frieda Bursten were accompanists. Miss Bursten played Liszt's "Le Rossignol" and Viorich's "Sincerity." Miss Therese B. Lynn opened the program with Dudley Buck's "Overture to Starbelle," and later played Raff's "Cachura." Miss Estelle Solon sang "The Lord is My Light," by Allister; "Summer," by Chaminade; "Elsie's Dream," from "Lohenkrin" (English); Wagner's Gounod's "Waltz Song," from "Roméo and Juliet" (French); "Sara Rose," by Arditl; and Becker's "Der Fruhlingszeitl," "Mattinata," from "Toati."

Friday afternoon Mrs. Ed Mahoney entertained at her home, 218 Seventh avenue west, in honor of Miss Mamie Neher, of Eau Claire, Wis. The afternoon was spent in games, singing and fortune telling. Ice cream, cake and lemonade were served in the dining room, which was decorated with sweet peas and ferns. Very enjoyable afternoon was spent. Those present were: Misses Marion England, Jennie McFarren, Rosie Roth, Saddle Patterson, Margaret Soucup, Mamie Byrons, Anna Neith, Mamie Nelson, Edou Claire, M. Fink and Marie Smith. Refreshments by Messrs. Ed Mahoney, F. Roth, J. Glockle, J. Sullivan, L. A. Hector, M. Merger, J. McGuire, M. Banningham, H. E. Patterson, G. J. Bogel, L. Byrons, W. Soukup, E. Pierce and E. The beautiful lawn of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Hartley, Thirteenth avenue east and Superior street, was a scene of surpassing beauty Friday night, on the occasion of the lava fete given by the King's Daughters. Immense quantities of lanterns shed their soft light on the velvety grass and shadowy trees, about which flitted scores of beautiful, dove-colored moths and matron, while the scene to picturesque Chester creek half a dozen bonfires brightly burned. About 250 people called during the evening to partake of the delicious refreshments served by a bevy of charming young ladies. Altogether, the occasion was a delightful one. The proceeds will go toward furnishing a room in St. Luke's hospital. The young ladies responsible for the success of the affair are: Misses Helen Spencer, Katharine Hubbell, Jessie Hartley, Mabel Duncan and Ruth Markell. The active members of the society are: Misses Anna White, Mildred Cleland, Grace Duncan, Helen Spencer, Rachel McLoran, Jennie McLaren, Marie Draper, Julia Duncan, Mabel Duncan, Margaret Ryan, Katharine Hubbell, Jessie Hartley, Frances Richardson, Rachel St. Clair, Lucy Magoffin, Pauline Smith, Alice Leutschmager, Frances Woodbridge, Grace St. Clair, Ruth Markell, Helen Wishart, Florence Brown, Edith Cook and Rena Smith.

The lawn party given by Miss May Sherwood last Wednesday evening at her home in Glen Avon was the most beautiful affair of the kind ever seen in Duluth. The young ladies, assisted by her summer guests, Miss Decker and Miss Plovman, of Evansville, Ind., Miss Brocknberg, of Lafayette, Ind., and Miss Grimsey, of Culpeper, Va., received on the front gallery, the side of the house, forming the background, was covered with white, over which hung as a drapery the ever graceful ground pine. A spot, red glow from the electric lights above cast a mellow radiance over the faces of the fair young hostesses as, gowned in white and carrying American Beauties, they welcomed the guests. At a distance from the house, in a group of stately pines, floated out upon the evening air the strains of Flaaten's orchestra.

The light effects were fairly dazzling. At the head of the main terrace stairway, where the lantern light seemed to converge, stood a white arch, set on either side on the arch itself with electric lights of red and white. Beautiful was the scene when a crowded car full of young ladies and gentlemen began to move in procession from the north entrance towards the arch, very column of grace and gladness in the soft light of summer evening dress. Against the center crest of the first terrace and at either entrance to the grounds were blazing and sparkling great pine fires, on high raised hearths, that told cheer and welcome. Through the electric arch, flanked on either side by low gateways of green and bloom, the guests wound their way. Vines enclosed the porch on all sides, its background was the front of the house laid in white, and this was softened by tracery of ground pine, fancifully hung against it. This porch ceiling was set with lanterns and electric lights, under the glow of which stood the five young hostesses of the evening.

On the south side of the house a beautiful refreshment canopy had been spread in long tent form, whose interior sides were panelled with a green of small spruce, and whose centerpieces was a great round table of snow-white surface, fairly aborn with white sweet peas. In a rustic arbor, midway down the south lawn, six young ladies, using soft Japanese lights, served punch from the flowing bowl wreathed in vines. One hundred and fifty guests were present.

The musical event of last week was the song recital by Miss Estelle Solon, of Superior, at the Pilgrim Congregational church, Wednesday evening. There was a fair attendance, and the audience was charmed with the musical quality of the young woman's voice, the higher tones of which were particularly true and sweet. A feature of the recital was the appearance, for the first time before a Duluth audience, of Professor Weeks, the new director of the First Pilgrim church. His song, "My Deer", was well interpreted at his hands. Mrs. Weeks and Miss Frieda Bursten were accompanists. Miss Bursten played Liszt's "Le Rossignol" and Viorich's "Sincerity." Miss Therese B. Lynn opened the program with Dudley Buck's "Overture to Starbelle," and later played Raff's "Cachura." Miss Estelle Solon sang "The Lord is My Light," by Allister; "Summer," by Chaminade; "Elsie's Dream," from "Lohenkrin" (English); Wagner's Gounod's "Waltz Song," from "Roméo and Juliet" (French); "Sara Rose," by Arditl; and Becker's "Der Fruhlingszeitl," "Mattinata," from "Toati."
