

Altman Will Sue.

Special to the News Tribune.

HOUGHTON, Aug. 5.—Benjamin Altman, whose wife, mother-in-law and two daughters were drowned in the wreck of the steamer Bon Voyage, has retained counsel and will file a declaration against the White Line Transportation company, owners of the steamer, for damages. The company has taken protective steps under the federal statutes.