

VERY ARTISTIC WINDOW.

Freimuth's Display for June Brides and Sweet Girl Graduates.

The western window of Freimuth's store is one of the chief attractions of the mercantile circles of the city just at this time. The window is gotten up with a view to honoring the season of brides and sweet girl graduates. It is done entirely in white and in the center of it is a figure draped to represent a June bride in all the glory of her marriage gown. Nothing could be more beautiful or more pleasing to those in whom the springtime thoughts of love are uppermost. The window is peculiarly fitting to the general condition of people at this time of year; and with the graduation season almost here, the decorations of the window are all the more attractive to those interested.

The center figure appears to be wearing a regulation wedding gown, but as a matter of fact it is entirely draped by the goods that go to make up such a gown, the goods being entirely uncut. The draping is artistic and exceedingly ingenious. Mr. Stern, the window dresser of the store, is the artist that did the work and it reflects a great deal of credit on him.
