LEADER IN THE BREAD INDUSTRY

UNIVERSAL BAKERY WINS FOR ITSELF HIGH REPUTATION IN ITS PARTICULAR LINE.

A. BINDER & CO., PROPRIETORS
FIRM TAKES FRONT RANK IN ONE YEAR'S BUSINESS.

Does Large Trade With Grocers, Boarding Houses, Restaurants and Hotels.

One of Duluth's newest industries, and at the same time one of the most prosperous is the Universal Bakery, Binder & Co., located at 1225 West Superior street.

It was started in June, 1901, and is therefore less than a year old, but in spite of that fact it has already won for itself a reputation and made for itself a place in the city. Its business has steadily increased from the start, and is still growing at a rapid rate.

In October, 1901, Andrew Binder, who established the business, associated with him in partnership J. H. Hansen, and the present style of firm name was adopted. These two men combine qualities which have done much to account for the success of the Universal Bakery. Mr. Binder has the practical side of the business thoroughly. Before entering business for himself he was foreman of the Crescent Bakery for over five years, and he has been in the baking trade for many years previously. Mr. Hansen, formerly foreman and contractor at the St. Paul and Duluth flour docks, has had a business experience which has been put to excellent use in the management of that part of the matter entrusted to him.

The great secret of the success which has attended the efforts of Messrs. Binder and Hansen is the fact that they have been determined to occupy front rank in the excellence of their products. They hold fast to the fact that today in Duluth their bread and other bakery products are recognized as standard. Their "Gold Leaf" brand is handled by all leading grocers, restaurants and boarding houses of the city. They hold fast to the fact that some industries by using Duluth flour exclusively.

The Universal Bakery, in addition to making a specialty of orders for particular quantities, also does a large business in supplying the boats making the Duluth-Superior harbor, and it has the exclusive contract for the White Line boats. On the principle that nothing but the best will win, the firm has always had the most exact bakers obtainable, and its plant is of the latest and most improved style in every particular. The most exact bakers have been earned, and it is reaching out for even greater laurels.

YOUTHFUL TIPLER.

Eight-Year-Old Boy Drinks From a Bottle Which He Finds.

The youngest drunk on record was brought to central police station yesterday afternoon. He was little more than a year old, and had imbibed some kind of liquor from a bottle which he found in a vacant lot. Sam was discovered lying on the wharf on the lake front at the foot of Congress street. He was only semi-conscious, and when he awoke he went there to fish. He was only semi-conscious, and when he awoke he went there to fish. He was only semi-conscious, and when he awoke he went there to fish.

MR. STONE RETURNS.

Finds Duluth Lively After Six Months Absence.

William T. Stone, of the Stone-Ordean-Veils concern, returned last evening from a six-months' trip South. "I find Duluth a lively place," said Mr. Stone, when seen at his home on West Third street after his return. "Business is excellent. Oh, yes; I kept in touch with the city while I was away, and am pleased with the outlook for the future."

"And by the way, I believe that a great share of our present prosperity is due to the fact that the territory which has been set in in the Dakotas and in Minnesota. Much of this territory is directed very close to Duluth. The time will come when the territory adjacent to the head of the lake will be settled up by farmers, and that will be a great thing for the city."

A left Duluth on Monday, May 13, and spent a month at Miami, Fla., and a month at St. Paul, Minn. "I visited the country during the winter. Business in the South is good. The cotton raising industry is making rapid strides. Northerners are investing largely in the South, but I believe that the workers are unreliable and shiftless."

PRINTING TRADE BANQUET.

Duluth Members of Craft Entertain Superior Brethren.

A social session in honor to the Superior Allied Printing Trades was given by their Duluth members Tuesday afternoon in Palmetto hall. The affair consisted of a banquet at which 300 covers were set, and singing and addresses. W. D. Dean was toastmaster. The program was presided over by W. D. Dean, president of the Trades Assembly. ### ANNIVERSARY SALE.

Hendren & Tallant Will Inaugurate One Today.

The Hendren & Tallant company, or as it is more popularly known, "The New Store," will today inaugurate a great reduction sale to celebrate the second anniversary of their opening in business at present location. To make this sale attractive, the company has made a reduction of at least ten per cent on every article in the store with the exception of a few articles on which there can be no reduction, as the goods are sold to the trade on contract.
