

DISSOLUTION SALE AT- TRACTS MANY PEOPLE

B. J. Cook, of the Eagle Clothing Co. Retiring From the Clothing Business.

Values that have attracted the general public to a degree of great excitement are being effected at the dissolution sale of the Eagle Clothing company.

B. J. Cook, one of the proprietors, announced his withdrawal from the company last week and the firm has inaugurated a big dissolution sale to clear up the affairs of the business. That is the reason that the Eagle Clothing company's store was crowded during the past week.

The sale will continue all this week, thus affording all an opportunity to secure some of the great bargains offered. The stock is new and of a superior quality.
