

CHILD FINED IN MUNICIPAL COURT

Girls' Frequent Quarrels Result in the Arrest of One.

Because two little children could not play together in peace, Lena Azinsky, 12 years old, swore out a warrant yesterday for Jennie Duff, of the same age, charging her with assault.

Lena is the youngest complainant who has appeared in municipal court for years. She was so diminutive that she could not reach the desk to sign the complaint without standing on tip-toe. Little Jennie was fined $1 and costs.

Lena and Jennie are playmates. It was shown in court that as neighbors they had played together for days, usually winding up in a quarrel. Sunday each girl dared the other to fight, and Jennie is charged with having assaulted Lena, pulling her hair and beating her.

The offense was proved in court, and under the circumstances Judge Windom stated he could take no other course than to inflict punishment.
