

SUPERIOR TO HAVE A JEWISH SCHOOL

N. MARCOWITSH.

N. Marcowitch, superintendent of the Hebrew school, just being started in this city, is a firm believer in the future of that race, and thinks some day, at a time not very far distant, the people will be united under one flag.

Several years ago a small band of enthusiastic Hebrews organized a movement to form a society for the purpose of raising funds and going to Palestine, purchasing the city and making that the future home of the Hebrews of the earth.

From a mere handful of members the society and ideas it represents at once found favor with the Jewish people and has experienced a rapid growth until today it numbers hundreds of branches and thousands of individual members.

The thought of gathering together the Jewish people under one flag in the old city, so clustered around with memories dear to the race and so closely connected with its history, has met with a hearty response.

N. Marcowitch has been prominently connected with the affairs of the Zionist society, as it has been called since its inception.

Mr. Marcowitch states that the movement to purchase Palestine and take there from every corner of the earth the Hebrews, is not merely one of sentiment but that the wheels of industry will be made to hum and the city will soon take its place among the business centers of the world.

He was born and lived in Jerusalem during the early years of his life and knows the country thoroughly and speaks entertainingly of it.

In his work of educating the children of the Hebrews of the country he is fitted by a splendid education, including a knowledge of five different languages. Already his school in this city is beginning to arouse enthusiasm. Mr. Marcowitch said yesterday:

"Our Hebrew school in Superior has already secured a start much better than I anticipated. There are in this city, I should judge, about 100 Hebrew children, and fully 60 of these will be enrolled in our night school. I had originally intended going to Duluth to start a similar school but another teacher has been appointed to go there.

"I find the Hebrew children apt pupils, hard workers and inclined to take a keen interest in the history of the race and its future. We teach in our schools Hebrew history, its language and grammar and the usual common branches.

"Although wherever the foot of man has trod and his hand has reached forth to develop you will find members of the Jewish race, they do not lose their love of its history or interest in its origin and customs."
