Sentenced Tomorrow.

ST. PAUL, Dec. 9.—After half an hour's deliberation, the jury in the case of Morris Edelstein, charged with perjury in connection with proceedings in bankruptcy, returned a verdict of guilty Friday night. Sentence will be passed Monday. The maximum punishment for this offense is a fine of $2,000 and five years' imprisonment. Edelstein was accused of having shipped a bill of goods to Eveleth, Minn., to defraud creditors. He denied doing so under oath before referee in bankruptcy, Doran. The defense admitted that the goods belonged to J. A. Clapp, an eastern dealer, who had left the goods with Edelstein to be sold on commission.
