

WANTS HIS SHARE FOR TIP ON STOCKS

---

George L. Spangler Sues Joseph Oreckovsky For $1050.

---

An action involving the distribution of profits from a speculation in Calumet & Arizona copper stocks will be tried in district court this week when George L. Spangler will attempt to prove that Joseph Oreckovsky promised him a half interest in the proceeds of any safe investment he would recommend. The former charges Oreckovsky with failure to divide $2100 which he claims is the increased value of $900 worth of stock which was purchased by the latter under the terms of the alleged agreement made about four years ago.

Mr. Spangler requests an accounting and judgment of $1050 and the costs of the action. The stock is now said to be in possession of the City National bank in security for a $2000 loan negotiated by the defendant.
