RANGE BUREAU OF THE NEWS TRIBUNE.

VIRGINIA, March 29.—The building owned by Nels Anderson and now occupied by the Bell Clothing company, has been leased to an outside man, who will start a meat market therein. The clothing company is negotiating for the lease of another store and will probably occupy the room vacated by the postoffice in the Opera House block.

J. Roman will build a fine residence on his Maple street property this summer. The plans are now being prepared by Palmer & Hunt, of Duluth. Andrew Grande, the contractor, has practically finished the residence of Julius Shanedling on the corner of Maple street and Cleveland avenue. This is a large and handsome residence.

W. A. Hall has moved into the Minnesota block.

Louis Cohen, who owns a residence and two lots on the corner of Maple street and Central avenue, two blocks from Main street, was this week offered $2,200 for the lots alone. A. N. Thompson, who owns a store building on the adjoining property, made the offer. It is not known whether Mr. Cohen will accept the offer, but it is not considered a high price.
