EVENTS OF THE COMING WEEK.

Monday—Matinee Musicales meets in the afternoon. Trinity Guild holds its opening meeting in the afternoon. Dr. Rubinkam lectures in the evening.

Tuesday—Friends in Council of the Pilgrim Congregational church entertain in the evening at Miss Alice Webster's. Delegates leave for state federation meeting at St. Cloud.

Wednesday—Mrs. J. D. Morrison speaks before the Park Point Mission Guild in the afternoon.

Thursday—Cecilian club meets in the afternoon with Mrs. Harry Strong.

Saturday—Saturday club meets, led by Mrs. J. A. Keyes.

Affairs among the clubs began in earnest last week. On Thursday evening the Twentieth Century club gave a delightful reception at the residence of Mrs. Z. D. Scott. Mrs. F. L. Barrows, Mrs. Scott, Miss Statham and Dr. Nathaniel Rubinkam of Chicago were in the receiving line and Dr. Rubinkam was introduced to the members of the club, to whom he is giving a series of twelve lectures.

Yesterday the Saturday club held its first study meeting in the ladies parlor of the Y. M. C. A. This club is beginning the study of a two-year course in French history. The class plan is to be tried as a method of best impressing the facts upon the minds of the members. In addition to the study program, Mrs. Robert Smith, the club's president, and Mrs. Ward Ames spoke of their vacations, the former's spent among the garden spots of New England, the latter's in the British Isles.

Bridge parties were few and far between. The excitement of the opening of other activities seems to have thrown a cloud over the bridge horizon.

Friday morning the Women's Council met for its bi-monthly meeting. A committee was appointed to investigate the feasibility of establishing an associated charities in this city and to report its findings at the November meeting of the council.

For the coming week the lectures of Dr. Rubinkam will take up the time of many of the club women.

Tuesday at least four delegates will go from this city to attend the State Federation meeting at St. Cloud. Mrs. Julius Barnes and Mrs. Robert Smith will go from the Saturday club, and Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge will represent the Ladies' Literature Class and the D. A. R. Mrs. J. L. Washburn, general federation secretary, will deliver an address at the meeting.

"Town Talk," the little play which was given at Superior last Tuesday evening, brought forth so much hidden talent in Duluth society, that a number of Duluth women will give the stars an opportunity of shining at the Lyceum, Nov. 9.

On that date there is to be an entertainment of specialties put on by the Duluthians for the benefit of the charity work which the Twentieth Century club is conducting in the West End. The same persons who did such excellent work in Superior are to appear in the cast on this side. Miss Marie Agatin, whose graceful dancing charmed her audience Tuesday evening, will dance for Duluth charity. The affair will be under the direction of Mr. McDonald, who planned the affair across the bay.

Tuesday a committee meets with Mrs. F. L. Barrows to arrange the details of the entertainment and choose the patronesses. Mrs. A. L. Agatin will head the committee.

Mrs. S. G. Knox and Mrs. W. C. Winton entertained at bridge Monday at the home of the former, 1311 East First street. The favors went to Mrs. Henry Myers, Mrs. C. A. Duncan and Mrs. W. B. Phelps.

Eight tables played bridge Tuesday afternoon at the second in the series of two bridge parties given by the same hostesses at the residence of Mrs. Knox. The favors of the games went to Mrs. W. J. Olcott, Mrs. G. L. Douglas and Mrs. C. H. Bagley.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Bailey, 1513 East Second street, entertained at three tables of cards Wednesday evening in celebration of their fifth wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Henry L. Winter entertained at an informal musicale Wednesday afternoon at her residence at Woodland. The invitation list was confined to the neighbors.
