Playgrounds have occupied the thoughts and attention of a number of the society women, club women and school teachers of the city during the past week. Mr. Lee F. Hanmer spoke on the subject before a gathering of the women from the different clubs of the city at the library on Tuesday, and Miss Patty Hill, who was here at the invitation of the Duluth and Superior Kindergarten association, put in a plea for the playgrounds in her lecture at the high school Thursday evening.

The lethargy of Lent seemed hardly to have departed from the whist players and tea givers during the week. Spring house cleaning also held the housewife in its thrall. No matter how frivolous a woman may be, six months of the year, few can escape the clutches of the spring and fall cleaning. Mere man sees nothing but soap suds and misplaced furniture to stub his toes on at night, but the womenfolk step unconsciously over the debris in their dreams of new curtains and rugs.

Friday of the coming week the Assembly will be danced. 'Tis rumored that in this set there is much whispering as to who will be the choice of a certain popular out-of-town man at this dance.

Bridge is gradually regaining its popularity, and although there are as yet not many invitations out for these affairs, the general opinion seems to be that the bridge craze is far from dead.

At the close of the week the board of directors of the Art school are planning a studio tea. The rooms of the school are assuming quite the atmosphere of a cozy studio, and the affair will undoubtedly draw a large crowd of those interested in the art school.

On Wednesday evening Miss Claire Abraham and Dr. Arthur Schwartz were married at the residence of the bride's father, Albert Abraham, 1426 East First street. Dr. Lefkowitz, of Temple Emanuel, read the service before the relatives of the couple. After the service a reception was held at the residence between the hours of 9 and 11. Dr. Schwartz and his bride left for a southern wedding journey to be at home on their return in this city. Among the out of town guests neapolis.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Schwartz, parents of Dr. Schwartz, from Norway, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Spadekar, of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schloss, of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. E. Kaiser, of Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Abraham, of Atlantic City, Mr. W. W. Wittig, of Minneapolis, and Max Abraham, of Minneapolis.

Two of the pre-nuptial parties were given for Dr. Schwartz and his bride the first of the week. On Monday evening Miss Elsie Silberstein gave a 10 cover dinner at her residence, 31 West Second street, Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Abraham, parents of the bride, gave the bridal dinner at the Spalding.

Miss Patty Hill was guest of honor Thursday at a luncheon given in Washburn hall. On Wednesday Miss Quillard entertained at her home in Lakeside for Miss Hill.

The Dywyk club danced Thursday evening at Steinway hall. This is the first dance the club has given for some months as it did not entertain during Lent. Last night's party was a pretty one with a number of outside guests.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Ryning of 5029 Dodge street have announced the engagement of their daughter, Alfreda, to Mr. Walter E. Williams, the wedding to take place some time in June.

Miss Daisy M. Griggs, state secretary of the Y. W. C. A., is spending a few days in the city as the guest of Mrs. Wesley Feetham, 2 Chester Terrace. This is to be Miss Griggs' last official visit to the city, as she is to be married the latter part of the summer to Mr. F. H. Phillips. Mr. Phillips and his bride expect to go to Egypt as missionaries under the direction of the Presbyterian board.

Several affairs are being planned in compliment to Miss Griggs this week. Among them is a tea to be given on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Z. D. Scott at her residence, 2125 East Superior street, at which the members of the board of directors will be the guests. On Monday a committee tea will be served in the rooms of the association. Mrs. N. C. Agnew will preside at the following informal toasts:

"Our Association," Dr. Stella Wilkinson; "The Gymnasium," Miss Frances M. Pullar; "The Religious Work," Miss Grace B. Scribner; "The Work From the State Secretary's Viewpoint," Miss Daisy M. Griggs.

Miss Kathleen Watterworth will give a reading.

Mrs. William McManus entertained at luncheon yesterday for her little daughter, Miss Rhea. The luncheon table was dainty with pink roses and other appointments carried out in the same color. The guests included Miss Elsie Cole, Miss May Jeffrey, Miss May Bradbury, Miss Vivien Keer, Miss Marie d'Autremont, Miss Elizabeth Congdon, Miss Marjorie Harrison, Miss Elsie Bleberman, Miss Lucille Bleberman, Miss Lucy Nightengale, Miss Dorothy Dowse, Miss Turrish and Miss Muriel Prindle.

Miss Ethleen Fee was the hostess Friday afternoon at a musicale in compliment to Miss Genevieve Eaton of Superior. Miss Eaton is to be married in June and Miss Fee is to be her bridesmaid. The Fee residence, 2305 East Third street, was prettily decorated in the spring flowers. In the living room Easter lilies and ferns were used and the dining room was decorated with white tulips and ferns. The musical numbers were furnished by Mrs. H. C. Strong, who played, Mrs. John Ball, who sang, and Mr. George Suffer also sang.

Miss Kathleen Watterworth and Miss Gladys Heimbach assisted the hostess.

Mr. William Bishop, formerly cashier of the First National bank, was guest of honor at a luncheon yesterday at the Kitchi Gamm club given by a number of his friends. Mr. Bishop and his family leave today for Chicago where he has accepted a position with the National Bank of the Republic. Since it was known they were to leave the city, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop have been entertained at a number of farewell parties, the majority of which were given a week ago. Two informal dinners, however, were given for them the past week. On Friday evening Mrs. Page Morris had a small dinner in their honor and last evening Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Marshall were hosts at dinner.

The Sophomore banquet and dance at the high school Friday evening was one of the most successful of the class entertainments to be given at the school during the winter and the first dance which has been held in the halls for some months.

At the banquet, which was attended by only the members of the class, Mr. Smith, Mr. Landl, Mr. Lambert, Miss Shields and Miss Wells of the faculty each gave informal talks, and Robert Mars, freshman president; George Ostergren, junior president; Philip Poirier, senior president, each toasted the class of '10 in turn.

Clifford Thorburn, a member of the class, was thanked to a toast on the faculty. Harry Briggs talked of the girls and Arthur Helmer gave a talk on athletics. After the feasting and speech-making, the sophomores joined the members of the other three classes in a dance in the hall on the main floor.

Despite the bad weather, a large crowd was in attendance.

Rev. and Mrs. Jacob J. Bizar of the St. Paul's German Evangelical church were surprised on Thursday afternoon by the members of the Ladies' Aid society at the pastor's residence, 219 Tenth avenue east.
