

Gets a Verdict for $105.

The jury in the case of George E. Hamilton against Max Zalk returned a verdict of $105 in favor of the plaintiff after deliberating upon the question from 2:30 Tuesday afternoon to 11 yesterday morning. Hamilton was suing Zalk for a 3½ per cent commission for the preparing of plans and specifications of a building, the estimated cost of which was $7,500.