

TRIED TO PRESENT THE PASSION PLAY SUNDAY

(News Tribune Special.)

ASHLAND, Wis., Oct. 11.—Latts Brothers, who ran the Bijou at Ashland and a moving-picture show at Washburn, were arrested at Washburn and their show closed when they attempted to present the "Passion Play" to a good-sized house on Sunday.

The Passion Play is one of the strongest spiritual lessons ever produced, the original production taking place in Switzerland every ten years, and sightseers from all over the world make the trip just to see the play. The films Latts Brothers were using at the time their show was stopped were taken from the original production and are of the finest. A jury will decide whether they are guilty of breaking the Sabbath blue law by showing biblical pictures next Wednesday morning.
