

LIKED MEALS AT THE COUNTY JAIL

Ben Karon Who Is Feeble Minded Thinks Well of Sheriff Bates' Hostelry.

The boy, Ben Karon, who on account of his queer actions has been detained for several days at the county jail pending an investigation by the probate court is not insane. This is what the physicians who made an examination say.

Rather than being a subject for the insane asylum they say he is a subject for the home for feeble minded. Witnesses were called who have known the boy for several years and from them and from the boy's father, L. Karon, of Hibbing, as well as from the boy himself, information was gathered from which it is concluded that he is feeble minded and not insane.

The boy has imagined that since he has been at the jail he was stopping at a hotel and was remarkably well pleased with the service rendered by Sheriff Bates and his deputies. He says he has had some of the best meals he ever ate.

Since it was concluded he is not insane, he is out of the jurisdiction of the probate court and he was taken away by his father.
