

A SUPERIOR HUSTLER

HIMON NYRIN, B-3.

Here is a hustler, who is up early and late. Himon does not let the grass grow under his feet, for hard and energetic work comes naturally to him. He is a typical little merchant of the street and has a long route to carry papers. These "route boys," as they are called in the newspaper world, have a strenuous life, but they get the money. The hot sun in the summer, the deep snow in the winter, the mud and wet in the spring and fall are all one to them. They are on the job night and morning and it is not to be wondered at if such industrious lads as Himon Nyrin should succeed in making friends among their customers. He is at the head of his subdistrict at present and shows every sign of meaning to stay there.
