

PATROLMAN HOLM IS STRONG ON PEDDLERS

It's a dull day when Officer Gust Holm, who is on duty in the Third street district, does not "pinch" a peddler. He has arrested seven or eight within the last few weeks and all have either paid fines and taken out licenses or else have been let off by doing the latter.

Yesterday Mack Sorokin, a Russian supposed to hail from Duluth, was picked up by the patrolman and sent up to headquarters where he was booked for peddling without a state license. He was later released upon his turning over the amount necessary to secure a state license.
