

What is Going on in Society.

With the approach of the good old summer time many, whose purses or pursants will permit, it are contemplating spending the next few months either in Europe or at some of the seaside resorts on the Atlantic coast. The annual exodus to Isle Royale has begun already. The desire on the part of the younger folk, especially the debutantes of the past season to enjoy a final summer party before they disperse for the summer will be gratified in at least a limited number of cases, notably the Palestine assembly, which will entertain at a dancing party Thursday evening at the Masonic temple. The question of graduation frocks for their daughters is occupying the time and attention of busy housewives just now to the exclusion of practically everything else, for within the next few weeks the schools of Duluth will be closed for the summer. Last week was extremely dull socially and until the formal opening of the boat club it is improbable that there will be anything of general interest to society.

Of the 141 members of the class of 1910 at the Central high school nearly one-half will take a higher course at the universities throughout the country, the majority, however, having declared for the University of Minnesota. Among the others centers of higher education, at which this year's graduating class will be represented are Michigan, Dartmouth, Macalaster, Oberlin, and the University of Ohio. Many of the girls will go to the local normal school.

Among those who will attend the University of Minnesota are:
