Dora Gurian, 99, passed away Nov. 2, 2010, in Greenwood Village. Rabbi Bruce Dollin and Cantor Martin Goldstein officiated at the Nov. 4 graveside service at Rose Hill Cemetery. Feldman Mortuary made the arrangements.

Dora Singer was born in 1911 in London, England, to the late Hyman and Katie Singer. She immigrated to the US in 1921 and settled in Denver.

Dora graduated North High with several academic honors.

She married Daniel Gurian in 1937.

first small businesses in Colorado to offer employee profit-sharing and pension programs.

Proud of her volunteer work for the UN Petition in 1933 and recording books for the blind, Dora was a life member of Hadassah, ORT and Pioneer Women.

A member of the Book Club for 65 years, she gave her last hour-long oral book review in 2005. She also belonged to a Great Books discussion group for several years.

Mr. Gurian passed away in 1991.

Dora's family and lifelong friends loved her open generous character, her gentle way of nourishing confidence and trust, her intelligence and wisdom, the family said.

She is survived by her daughter Shelley (Robert) Krovitz and son Marshall (Marcia) Gurian; grandchildren Sonja (Scott) Trontz, David (Laura Hyman) Krovitz, Gail (Jeff Greenstein) Krovitz and Matthew Krovitz; and great-grandchildren Danielle Trontz, Dorianne Trontz, Sarine Krovitz, Rhett Krovitz and Russell Greenstein.

Contributions may be made to JFS, Beth Nehamah Hospice or Hadassah.
