Sandel Naftalin, Mayor's Father, Dies at Age 85

Sandel Naftalin, father of Minneapolis Mayor Arthur Naftalin, died early Saturday at the age of 85.

Mr. Naftalin, a retired produce dealer, died in the Fair Oaks Nursing Home, 321 E. 25th St., where he had lived in recent months.

He was born in Lithuania and lived in Fargo, N.D., from 1896 until moving to the Minneapolis nursing home.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. Monday at the Fargo Hebrew Cemetery, with burial in the cemetery.

Survivors besides the mayor include another son, Mortimer, Washington, D.C.; a daughter, Mrs. Sidney Scherling, Minneapolis; a brother, Errol, Long Beach, Calif., six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mayor Naftalin's mother died in 1958.
