

THE CITY NEWS.

There will be a social gathering at the First Presbyterian church on this (Friday) evening at 7:30.

Election bets are not yet all paid.

Political poultry is yet at a discount.

The barge Siberia cleared for Buffalo yesterday, with wheat.

Early as it is, holiday goods are being displayed to some extent.

The propeller China clears for Buffalo today with flour and wheat.

Betting on the result of the election has not yet entirely subsided.

The sewer is being repaired in Second avenue west, below Superior street.

A marriage license is issued to Christopher Roamer and Carrie Brownese, of Duluth.

Edward McKinney, of St. Paul, has sold his last car load of horses and returned home.

There is joy and also a boy in the house of S. Levy. The boy is healthy and the joy is abundant.

Emigration Agent Eadie has returned from a month's visit to Toronto and other parts of Canada.

Passenger business on both roads has been poor for some days past. The election accounts for it.

Wheat received at elevator A, 4,000 bushels; at B, 17,000 bushels. Shipped from A, 10,000 bushels.

Johnson & Evans' book store will be moved eastward two feet to make room for the new opera house.

Geo. Winters is delivering his photographs of business houses, hotels, and residences. They are giving satisfaction.

The propeller Ontario came in from Sarnia yesterday with about sixty-five tons of merchandise. She clears with flour.

Superior has been beaten at base ball and billiards—perhaps she would like to compete with Duluth in a little rifle practice.

E. Beckman has rented the east room in his new building to a man from Chicago, who will open a billiard hall and sample room.

Some very good shooting was done by the Rifle club yesterday, in the last match of the season. A number of spectators were present.

Strange as it may seem, just at this time Clerk of the Court Kiichli reports a sudden falling off in the number of naturalization papers issued.

The meeting of Prof. Schilling's dancing class, which was called for this evening, will not be held. The professor will be at Superior today on business.

It is argued against the TRIBUNE by some very intelligent people, that it has advocated electric light for Duluth, and thereby an increase of taxation. Comment is unnecessary.

Our well-known townsman and democratic friend, T. F. McGowan, has shipped a barrel of Lake Superior white fish to Gov. Cleveland, the newly elected governor of New York.

Mr. E. Hartman, whose wife just arrived here from St. Petersburg, Russia, as heretofore reported in the TRIBUNE, has been suddenly called to Chicago by a pressing business engagement.

Now that the excitement of election is over, the pleasure-loving portion of the community are already crying out for some sort of an entertainment; but the cry appears in vain. It will not be always thus.

The condition of things is such that our neighbors of Superior will not celebrate the arrival of the first Omaha train there to-day. The train will not arrive, that's what's the matter. When it does there will be rejoicing.

The first cut brownstone for the front of P. Beneteau's store was laid hesterday. This store, we are assured, will be one of the most convenient and best appointed in the city, and a glance through it even now leads to that opinion.

Clothiers report that the mild weather does not tend to make trade in their line lively, but none of them complain. We don't think that the opinion advanced by some, that this business is being "over-done" here, will be substantiated by the TRIBUNE's annual review of business to be published at the end of the year.
