

DISSOLVED

Mr. Kastriner to Remove from the City—
His Career in the Hub.

Citizens learn with regret that the old reliable clothing firm of Goodman & Kastriner has been dissolved and that the latter gentleman with his family will remove to Groton sometime this week to make his future home, he having by the terms of the dissolution succeeded to the business of the firm in that place. Aterdeen loses a good citizen and an excellent business man, all of which is to the profit and advantage of Groton. Mr. Kastriner came here five years ago and by close attention to his business, by his quiet and careful ways of living has gathered around him a large circle of friends and acquaintances who have delighted in doing business with him. His store has always been at the front, always well stocked and always inviting.

Mr. K. hardly needs an introduction to the people of Groton, for his name is familiar to the most of them. His business methods can be vouched for by citizens of Brown county in large numbers, and he continues his transactions among them, only making a slight change in location. The NEWS has every reason to believe he will meet with the greatest kind of success and it wishes for him and his estimable wife all the good fortune they would desire. The citizens of Groton should give them a most cordial welcome.
