

In Society

The Week in Duluth.

Everybody has been inclined to rest and talk over things during the week, so there were not so many even small affairs. Entertainments for the bride-elect will begin soon, and that means society will have plenty of occupation.

There is every indication that Duluth will have the gayest kind of a winter. The old standing clubs will, of course, do their share and two or three new organizations coming in the field will add much. Several of the women so prominent as hostesses are talking of entertainments, large and many, for the midwinter season. Then, not a few of the newer additions to society will assume the most attractive role possible for a charming, clever woman.

The coming days are to have big things galore. First the Assembly, in final ball of the Benedicts' club, and the Macgiffin-Shackelford wedding, surely a trio unsurpassable.

With the club women the approaching Federation meeting at St. Paul this week is of all absorbing interest. The gathering of bright, brainy, many-sided women from all over the state is not a little matter, nor one to be lightly passed over. The importance of the meeting is widespread and broad-reaching, with an influence that lives and lasts beyond a day. Many women from here will go down for this meeting and the local interest is great.

The ushers for the wedding of Miss Maggolin and Mr. Samuel Johnson Shackelford of Kentucky at the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 10, are to be Mr. Otto C. Hartman, Mr. Alec Hartman, Mr. Will Peyton, Mr. Frank Williamson, Mr. Herschel B. Fryberger, Mr. Morton Miller, Mr. Ernest Jacobi, Mr. Frederick Goldrick and Mr. Heber Hartley.

It has long been a standing joke about going across the bay with matrimonial thoughts intent, but until recently nobody thought of going there for a brother or a sister.

Two delightful and well attended concerts help occupy the nights.

On Wednesday there will be a concert of especially great interest to all the music lovers in the town, and the many friends of Mrs. James Nelson McKindley and Mrs. Robert L. Knebel, who are arranging the program that is to be given at the Pilgrim Congregational church.

Can you keep a secret? A surprise of immense importance is to be brought out by the early days of November.

People in this world would be much happier if they would be less willing to put unpleasant constructions on things. It is very seldom that a thing is said or done with malice aforethought, and only with the minority is the belief concerning the fast increasing sin in the land.

Among the women to go down to St. Paul for the Federation meeting are Mrs. J. J. C. Davis, Mrs. Denison H. Smith, Jr., Mrs. James D. Ray, Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, Miss Barber, Mrs. William B. Phelps, from the Literature class; Mrs. George Rupley and Mrs. George V. L. Brown, of the Magazine club, and Mrs. McKusick and Mrs. Barnes, representing the Saturday club.

Miss Marie Draper has been placed in the Waynard school for the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Draper have gone to housekeeping in the Ashtabula and Mr. Draper will be with them for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Cuyler Adams have returned from Deerwood and are living at Fifteenth avenue east and First street.

For the winter Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lee Gilbert will be at the Spalding.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Blades have decided on moving to Kansas City to live, and will leave almost immediately.

The Literature class meets on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. James D. Ray. Miss Elizabeth Eberle will lead the lesson, "Monopolies."

Friday and Saturday evenings will be devoted, by all literary and people interested in the important questions before thinking folks today, to the Ely lectures that are to be held at the First Presbyterian church under the direction and patronage of the Ladies' Literature class. This course is not an invitation affair, but are for any and all interested in the subjects.

The second meeting of the Nineteenth Century club will be held with Miss Lydia Frazier two weeks from last night. Rudyard Kipling will be the subject, with Mr. Clarence Shepard, reader.

Very attractive booklets containing the program in detail of the third annual meeting of the Minnesota Federation of Women's clubs, to be held in St. Paul on Oct. 7, 8 and 9, have been sent out. The covers of the books are done in the Federation colors, russet and gold, and bear the monogram.

The state regent of the Daughters of the Revolution, Mrs. R. M. Newport, has called a meeting of all the officers of all the chapters through the state on Friday, Oct. 29, at St. Paul. Important business will come before the gathering. The St. Paul and Nathan Hale chapters of St. Paul, the Minneapolis and Colonial from Minneapolis, the Daughters of Liberty and Grysolon du Lhut chapters of Duluth, as well as eight other chapters in different parts of the state, are to be represented. From the home chapters, there will be there Mrs. Denison B. Smith, Jr., regent of the Daughters of Liberty; Miss Barber, secretary, and Mrs. Washburn, chairman of the executive committee, and Mrs. Barnes, regent of the Grysolon du Lhut chapter.

Speaking of the growth of D. A. H.'s in the state, Mrs. Newport, the regent, has recently appointed eight new chapter regents.

The decision of Miss McKay to remain here this winter will bring much pleasure to the musical and social sets in the city.

Final announcements concerning the Benedicts' club are now sent out. A party will be given at the Spalding the first week in November. Already the membership list has reached 51 couples.

Miss Edith Cook has invitations out for a Halloween party.

For the first time this season, the East End Grand club was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ross on Friday evening. Mrs. Lucas and Mr. Pantan won the prizes. Miss Lena Lucas and Miss Helen Ross assisted in the entertainment of the guests—all the club members including Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Church, who have just joined, and Mrs. Prindle of Minneapolis and Mr. Leithen.

On Friday afternoon, the Ashtabula grand club gathered formally for the first time with Mrs. William White. Dainty refreshments were served and the prizes, cut glass finger bowls, were won by Mrs. Heller and Mrs. Robinson.

The newly organized literary society of the High school seniors met on Friday evening with Miss Ethel Birch.

Mrs. William White of the Ashtabula will give an evening at cards this week for Mrs. Prindle of Minneapolis.

On Friday afternoon the Ashtabula grand club will meet with Mrs. Bagley.

On Friday and Saturday evenings, Professor Ely will begin his course of lectures under the auspices of the Ladies' Literature class, at the First Presbyterian church. Professor Ely did not intend to lecture this winter but consented to come to Duluth when he learned that the members of the class were ready to study economic subjects under his direction and in preparation for his lectures. The ladies have secured the Presbyterian church for this course in order that all interested may attend, and for the same reason have put the price of all the lectures at $1 and a single lecture at 25 cents. The tickets are on sale at Kugler's, Smith & Smith, and Boyce's drug stores.

This list of Professor Ely's books but goes to show how thoroughly well grounded he is in his favorite study. "The Labor Movement in America," "Taxation in American States and Cities," "Problems of Today," "Social Aspects of Christianity," "Socialism and Social Reform," "French and German Socialism in Modern Times," "An Introduction to Politics" and "Outlines of Economics."

Here are a few of the things said about the books: "Full of interesting facts," "His reasonings are well fortified throughout and no student of political economy can afford to disregard them," "Here for the first time the public is presented with a full and accurate account of Socialism as it is."

All the Magazine club members seemed out to the first meeting on Tuesday. Mrs. Barnum was leader and papers were read by Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Chapin, Mrs. Hale and Mrs. d'Autremont.

The engagement has been announced of Miss Frances Edwards and Mr. William H. Quahle. The marriage will take place in the early spring.

On Saturday afternoon, at the invitation of the Saturday club all the club women in town are to meet and talk over the Federation meeting.
