

DULUTH SOCIALLY

The suggestion in the News Tribune two weeks ago, relating to the appropriateness of a Twentieth Century ball or fete, such as is being arranged for in a number of leading cities of the country, has occasioned more or less comment in society circles, and it is possible that something may be done shortly to carry the idea into effect.

Of course the feature in an affair of the kind suggested, would be the costumes. In some cities, the costumes will cover the distinctive periods from the beginning of the Christian Era, while others limit the field to only those worn in America.

This, it may be seen, will allow almost anything from the fancy court dress of old English, French and Spanish times to the picturesque costumes of the Japanese.

By using the costumes of the natives of America, beginning with the Puritans and coming down through the revolutionary times, incorporating all the quaint characters, would certainly make the grand march a novel spectacle.

The dress in vogue during colonial times would no doubt be quite popular, as would be also that of the Mexicans, the Japanese, the East Indian countries, and some of the South American countries.

A minuet might be one of the features. The minuet dates back to the seventeenth century, and those who dance the minuet could be dressed in the English court dress of that century.

Another feature which has been suggested and which would undoubtedly prove to be popular is to place a large bell just outside the building or on the will dance for the benefit of the unfortunate and homeless little folks Tuesday evening, Nov. 27.

The Degree of Honor gave a social Friday evening in the Great Eastern hall. There was a large attendance and an enjoyable time was had by all.

The young ladies of the Liethhead Drug Co. entertained their friends Thursday evening with an enjoyable dancing party in Kalamazoo hall. About 75 couples were present. The dancing was followed by the serving of excellent refreshments. Di Marco's orchestra furnished the music and Ed Quistgard and William Hall were in charge of the floor.

MISS GEORGIE ALEXANDER.

Miss Georgie Alexander is one of Duluth's most promising young singers. She possesses a soprano voice of good range, her low tones being particularly fine. She is studying with Prof. Francis Woodward and has sung in the First Methodist church choir for the last four years. Recently she was offered the position of soprano soloist at the St. Clement's church. Besides being an accomplished singer, Miss Alexander is possessed of much dramatic ability and has been seen often in amateur theatricals. She is frequently called upon to assist at concerts and musicals and on these occasions she is always accorded a warm reception.

stage and decorate it appropriately. Just as the hands of the clock point to the twelfth hour the bell will be tolled twelve times. Following this some impressive ceremony may be observed.

The ladies would be indispensible in an affair of this kind. Each period of time should be assigned to some lady who has the time to devote to a brief study of the style of dress of that period.

Society is already looking forward with pleasant expectations to that always important function in Duluth, the Charity ball. This year it will take place on Nov. 27 and at the Spalding, as usual. The women having the affair in charge will make every effort to have the event eclipse in brilliancy and general satisfaction the many delightful affairs of the past in this city, if possible. One of the features will be a supper. It has also been decided to provide card rooms for those who enjoy going to the ball but who do not dance. Last year the charity ball was given jointly by the Woman's Relief society and the Children's Home society. Two years ago it was given by the Children's Home society and that is the arrangement this year. The Relief society is disposed to be generous with the Children's Home society and people ed only by a few of the immediate friends and relatives. The parlors were handsomely decorated and the affair was a very charming one in every respect. Mr. and Mrs. Mance left over the South Shore road for the east on their bridal trip and will be at home at the Spalding in about two weeks.

One of the most elaborate weddings of the fall took place Monday night, when Miss Agnes Maginnis, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Maginnis, was united in marriage to Mr. William Bennett. The ceremony was solemnized in the parlors of the cathedral residence which had been becomingly decorated. Rev. Father Corbett officiated, while a number of relatives and friends were present. Prior to the pronouncement of the solemn words Mrs. James McAuliffe sang "Believe Me if All These Endearing Charms," followed by the entrance of the bridal party to the music of the Lohengrin march played by Flaaten's orchestra. Two little flower girls, Ruth and Winnie Maginnis, prettily gowned in white, headed the procession, Miss Anna Farrell the maid of honor, followed the flower girls, after whom came the bride with her father. Rev. Father Corbett and the groom and his best man, Mr. William Majo, awaited the party in the parlors. The ceremony was impressive and beautiful and during it the orchestra played Mendelssohn's "Spring Song." As the ceremony was concluded and the bridal party passed out of the parlors, the triumphant notes of the Mendelssohn march rang out.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of white silk mulle over white taffeta with white applique trimming and carried white roses. The maid of honor was also gowned in white and carried pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception took place at the home of the bride's parents, 1024 East Second street, from 8:30 to 10:30 o'clock and a large number of friends called to offer their congratulations. The bridal party and Mr. and Mrs. Maginnis received. In the dining room Mrs. Charles H. Maginnis, Mrs. J. E. Foran, Miss Flo Carey, Miss May Gowan, Miss Grace Sheridan and Miss Nellie Murphy assisted. The wedding cake was distributed by Miss Catherine Farrell and Miss Lillian Gowan. Wilford Kiehl and Joseph Engels were ushers.

A treat is in store for Duluth lovers of high-class music. From this day forth they will be all expectancy until the time comes when they shall be "all ear," as Milton says, to hear that series of chamber concerts to be given by Mrs. Emil Schmied, piano; Mrs. Geist-Erd, cello; and Mr. Bradbury, violin, and they will be known as the Philharmonics.

"All good things are three," saith the Arabian proverb, and three artists of merit and popularity will give three concerts. The artists will select the music to be rendered with the greatest solicitude, and, the high reputation of each of them is a guaranty that the excellence of the execution will correspond with the taste of selection.

The scene of these concerts will be at the home of Mrs. Miller-Bradley, and the subscription list is about filled for this most recherche musical entertainment of the winter.
