"Parlor Theater"—the place to laugh. The Outlook club will meet with Mrs. J. D. Morrison this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The subject to be discussed will be "Dutch and Flemish Cities."

A banquet for the junior department of the Y. M. C. A. will be held this evening at the headquarters of that institution. The ladies' auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a meeting this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Word has been received from Hot Springs, Ark., that W. B. Marshall, deputy oil inspector of Duluth, is now so far improved in health as to be able to sit up. It was feared about a week ago that he would live but a short time, but that he will now recover seems to be assured.

Several Duluth men report having seen wild geese flying north yesterday morning about 7 o'clock. It is always considered a pretty sure sign of spring when the geese migrate to the north and that little winter weather may be expected after the migration begins.

"Parlor Theater"—everyone is praising our show.

Mendenholm.

C. S. Prosser and company have begun action against C. H. Oppel & Sons to recover $1,945.12. The plaintiff sold feed and other supplies to O. W.

Saunders, a logging contractor. The complaint states that it was at the defendant's request that the goods were given and will therefore endeavor to hold them liable. Of the full amount of the bill but $84.93 has been paid. The balance is the amount sued for.

The Lake Superior Investment company has brought suit against D. J.

Lloyd for $1,779.34 alleged to be due on a couple of promissory notes.

Edith F. Storms has brought suit for divorce against Arba Storms. The plaintiff is 23 years of age and the defendant 25. They were married Aug. 15, 1898. The complaint states that the plaintiff has been in all respects a worthy wife, and that in Aug. 20, '99, the defendant deserted her. There is one child. Plaintiff asks an absolute divorce and alimony.

George Joppolus, a Greek candy vender, was fined $2 and costs yesterday for peddling without a license. He is one of the men who stand in front of the Lyceum when theatre patrons are coming out and who, with his companions, often blocks the entire sidewalk.

J. Edelson, a fish dealer, was fined

$2 and costs in police court yesterday for petty larceny. Daniel W. Noel, a Garfield avenue expressman, made the complaint. Edelson went to Noel's home and told the latter's wife that her husband had ordered him to leave some fish there and to pay him 25 cents for them. This was done. Then Edelson went up the street where he found

Noel. To him he stated that he had left a large fish at the house and his wife wanted him to pay him fifty cents.

Noel paid. When he went home to dinner he and his wife began comparing notes, whereupon the fish man was arrested.

The inclement weather kept many people from attending the concert given at the Armory last evening by Lanner's band, but those who were there heard a most enjoyable musical entertainment. The band was but recently organized and contains much good talent. The program included classical and popular selections and was well rendered.

The Edgar house at Twenty-first avenue East and Superior street has been the target for boy marksmen, who have within the past few days broken every window in the basement by pelting stones through them. The family is out of the city. Chief of Police Troyer made an investigation but did not locate the offenders.
