A KNOCKER AT HIBBING. Some writer from Hibbing to the Duluth Evening Herald perpetrates the following at the expense of the MINER. For the benefit of the astute correspondent at Hibbing we wish to state, the MINER has always been edited by the present editor and proprietor, who is a little adverse to having this grafter's name coupled with a legitimate business. The writer of the appended is evidently a friend of the Roger fellow and is trying to establish some prestige for the most notorious wind-bag that ever struck these parts. Read what he says: "H. B. Rogers, formerly editor of the Hibbing Tribune and the Ely Miner, will print a newspaper in New Salem, N. D., in two languages, English and German, the initial number appeared last Saturday."

Schools Opened. The schools of District No. 12 opened for business Monday morning with a full force of teachers and enrollment as follows: C. L. Newberry, principal. Miss Cora M. Nelson, seventh grade, 30 enrolled. Misses Bertha Bradley and Eva Johnson, fifth and sixth grades, 99. Miss Olive Gowen, fourth grade, 50. Miss Ida Scheefe, third grade, 55. Miss Lillian Scott, second and third grades, 60. Miss Esther Daum, second and first grades, 48. Miss Camille Henton, first grade, 42. Miss Mabelle Schroer, kindergarten, 78. Miss Eleanor R. Clark, second and third grades, 43. Miss Sara C. Schrap, beginners and first grades, 57. Miss Lulu C. Wright, third and fourth grades, 56.

The High School and eighth grade enrollment is placed at 74 pupils who are in charge of the following: Misses Adelaide E. Wilke, Grace E. Irvin, Fannie E. Brayton and Maud Whipple. Winton schools have an enrollment of 69 in charge of Prof. G. G. Denning and Miss Elisabeth Maloney. The total enrollment shows an increase in the district over last year of 100 pupils. It is to be supposed that during the year several more will be added to the total. As soon as the buildings at White Iron Lake and the Savoy are erected two more teachers are required. At the rate of over 100 a year the new school building will certainly prove a necessity as already the rooms are crowded.

Distinguished Churchman Here. Right Rev. Bishop McGolrick of Duluth, administered the sacrament of confirmation to a class of fourteen adults and sixty four children at the Catholic church last Sunday. The bishop arrived Saturday evening and was met at the train by the band and a large concourse of members of his church including the Austrian society in uniform. He was escorted to the church where he gave his blessing to the assembly after which he sought the residence of Rev. Father Buh whose guest he was while here. Mass was said by the bishop at 6:30 Sunday morning. At 10:30 a solemn high mass was said by Vicar General Jos. F. Buh, at which Bishop McGolrick delivered a most masterly sermon. At the close of the services the bishop confirmed the large class. In the impressive confirmation ceremony Bishop McGolrick was assisted by Rev. Buh and Theologian Aloysius Blazulak. At 7:30 that evening vesper were sung, the bishop delivering the address. The spacious church was crowded to the doors and his addresses were listened to attentively. He is a speaker of gold and ranks among the foremost in the northwest. As a historian he has few equals and pleases people of all religious denominations by his discourses. Bishop McGolrick left for his home in Duluth Monday afternoon.

Grateful. Thompson—I want to ask a favor of you. Robinson—All right; go ahead. "I want to ask you to lend me $50 for a week." "Thank you, thank you—give me your hand! I appreciate it, I assure you." "Why—what are you thanking me for?" "For the compliment. I haven't seen $50 in years."—Kansas City Journal.

A Study in Heartbreakings. "I am supposed to die of a broken heart," said the unmanageable actress. "Now, how am I to know how a person with a broken heart behaves?" "I'll tell you what to do," answered the cold-blooded manager. "You study the author of this play after he sees your first performance of it."—Washington Star.

Revised the Proverb. "How often," sighs the sentimental person, "do we see strikingly exemplified in real life the adage that when poverty comes in at the door love flies out of the window." "In a way, yes," concedes the practical individual. "For instance, when the ice man rings in the entrance the coal man is saying good-by in the alley."—Judge.

Hard. "It's a hard task this being a statesman," remarked the great man, reflectively. "People are hard to satisfy." "Very. If you have money at the end of a term of office they wink significantly and say: 'I told you so,' and if you are poor they curl their lips and comment on your improvident character."
