

KARON-KENIGSBERG.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season took place last evening, when Miss Edith Grace Karon, of John avenue, became the bride of David Kenigsberg, of Duluth. The rooms were beautifully decorated with ferns, smilax and cut flowers, while here and there were banks of potted plants.

The bride entered the parlor on the arm of her father, S. Karon, while Signor Valenza played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride was preceded by Miss Helen Karon, sister to the bride, who acted as maid of honor, and Louis Zalk, of Duluth, who was groomsman. Following them came Miss Hattie Shapiro, of Duluth, the bridesmaid, accompanied by Max Coddon, of Cloquet, both cousins of the bride. Little Goldie Karon acted as ring-bearer, carrying the ring in a yellow tulip.

While the orchestra played, Rev. Mr. Truiblatt read the marriage ceremony in keeping with the orthodox Jewish custom. The entire ceremony, as required by the Jewish church, was carried out.

The bride presented a charming appearance attired in cream lace, trimmed with panne velvet, over taffeta, and carrying a large bouquet of bridal roses tied together with white ribbon. She wore a bridal veil decked with lilies-of-the-valley. The maid of honor, Miss Helen Karon, wore tan crepe de chine over taffeta, and carried American beauty roses. Miss Shapiro wore crepe de chine over white silk and carried American beauty roses. Mrs. S. Karon, the mother of the bride, was attired in pearl gray muslin de soie trimmed with black lace.

After the wedding an elaborate wedding dinner was served to sixty guests, most of whom were from out of town. The dining room was decorated with cut flowers, while ribbons were suspended from the chandeliers, carrying out the color scheme of red, white and purple.

Many messages of congratulation were read during the evening from friends and relatives from out of the city. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenigsberg left last evening over the Northern Pacific for St. Louis for a brief stay. On their return they will visit with relatives of the groom in Milwaukee and Chicago. They will make their home for the summer at the Chaperon cottage, on Minnesota Point, after July 25.

The bride is well known in the city, having been a member of the graduating class of the Normal school, 1903, where she was prominent in the work of that institution. Since her graduation she has been a teacher in the Superior public schools.

Among the out-of-town guests were S. L. Mark, Ironwood; Misses Sadie and May Mark, St. Paul; Etta and Esther Coddon, St. Paul; Messrs. Max Coddon, Cloquet; N. Rochstein, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Shapiro, Mr. and Mrs. Goldeen, Mr. and Mrs. B. Kaner, Mr. and Mrs. S. Werhelf, Mr. and Mrs. Bloom, Mr. and Mrs. Sher, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Britz, Messrs. Milton Rosenberger, J. L. Zalk, E. Helperin and Ben Shapiro, Duluth.
