

RABBI SILBER TALKS OF "PASTOR'S DUTY"

---

Rev. Dr. Mendel Silber, pastor of Temple Emanuel, greeted his large congregation last night with the rendition of a sermon entitled "The Duty of the Pastor to His Flock." He considered that a pastor should be a constant friend and guide to his congregation, that he should be the teacher of the young and the councillor of the adult and old.

While the burden of church affairs rested upon the shoulders of the pastor, he said the congregation was also obligated to lend unswerving support, not in financial aid alone, but in personal effort for the welfare of all.

At the close of the service Dr. Silber informally received his congregation, many members of which he had not greeted since his return home.

---