

BREVITIES

While engaged in making certain repairs to the ceiling of one of the rooms at the Hotel Superior, Robert Lamont, carpenter, fell from a step ladder, sustaining some painful bruises which will incapacitate him for work for a few days.

Letters containing circulars from a German lottery have been received at the Superior postoffice. The postal authorities declare this a violation of the regulations and the mail is accordingly held up.

The Chicago & Northwestern, the Wisconsin Central and the St. Paul roads will have their hearing before the state tax commission at Madison next Wednesday. The commission so far this winter has not yet made a report.

A memorial has been presented to the legislature asking that the office of county supervisor of assessments be abolished.

Senator Hudnall has introduced a bill in the senate relating to the action of garnishment. It was referred to the committee on judiciary. It is supposed that this is the bill in which the Grocers' association is interested.

The county clerk's office has issued marriage licenses to Arthur Levinson and Pauline Latts and Anton Maskiewicz and Helen Pierkowski.

Poundmaster Maxwell's report shows that during the past month he exterminated 36 dogs. Lack of the license tag proved the undoing of the canines.

Park Camp, Royal Neighbors, will enjoy a masquerade at Terminal hall on the evening of Thursday, Feb. 3.

The Peter Cooper basketball club is out with a challenge to any team at the head of the lakes with weight averaging about 100 pounds to the man.

The Douglas county bar association has endorsed L. S. Larsen for non-partisan candidate for county judge.

A party of city officials from Waukegan, Ill., are expected in the city today to investigate the Superior water works plant.

Mrs. Shields, John avenue, mother of Robert J. Shields, is seriously ill.

Members of the Normal faculty will enjoy a picnic on Minnesota Point today. They will make their headquarters at the Lewis cottage.