

WORKINGMEN'S CLUB IS FORMED IN DULUTH

A meeting was held yesterday afternoon in Kalamazoo hall to organize the Workingmen's Educational club, by which the promoters of the movement hope to give a decided impetus to the educational movement among their fellows and at the same time provide a good place of meeting during the winter evenings for entertainments, lectures, debates, recitations and other entertainment.

The meeting was devoted to the framing of the constitution and by-laws and the following charter members were enrolled: Louis L. Raymond, I. W. Foglesong, P. G. Phillips, S. Slonim, Samuel Slonim, Benjamin Burg, M. S. Hinchfield and J. R. Gallagher. Following are the officers elected: President, P. G. Phillips; vice president, L. L. Raymond, and secretary-treasurer, J. R. Gallagher.

It had been proposed to have a lecture on the program yesterday but owing to the time spent in the framing of the by-laws and the constitution and election of officers the talk was postponed until next Sunday afternoon, when a prominent local man will be secured.

It is the intention to secure speakers representing the various parties on political or sociological problems and the greatest liberty will be extended in the discussion of these topics.

Regular meetings will be held Sunday afternoons in Kalamazoo hall. It is hoped, however, that before long the club will be able to have quarters open every night.
