

Because of unrequited love John Young, a dock laborer at Superior, shot and killed Rose Kaner, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Sam Kaner, and then went home and suicided in his own apartments, next door. The girl was alone in the house when Young evidently attacked her in the kitchen. She was shot in the breast after a struggle, and then ran out to the front door, where she dropped dead.