

SHAPIRO FACES CHARGE OF GRAND LARCENY

David Shapiro was brought back from St. Paul yesterday by Sheriff Bates. He was arrested on a state warrant which charges grand larceny. Shapiro was arraigned and his bond placed at $300 which he had been unable to furnish last night.

Shapiro was a merchant at Cloquet. He agreed to turn over his stock to his creditors as he was in bad financial condition. The creditors allege that he removed part of the stock and did not comply wholly with the agreement. They place a value of $150 on the property alleged to have been taken away.

P. J. Neff was retained as Shapiro's attorney.
