

FLOWER EXHIBIT GREAT SUCCESS

Pupils of Webster School Show Much Progress Since Year Ago.

The annual flower exhibit held in the upper floor of the Webster school yesterday afternoon by the children of the school was a great success.

The flowers were raised from seeds or slips furnished by the Twentieth Century club to the children each year. Mrs. F. L. Barrows, president of the club, Mrs. J. H. Crowley and Mrs. Z. D. Scott were present at the exhibit to award the ribbons.

More than 100 plants and vases of cut flowers were shown by the children. Bowls of brilliant nasturtiums, bunches of sweet peas, rich blossoming geraniums, pinks and even roses bore testimony to the faithful care of little hands. They told a tale of much careful attention for the conditions in many of the homes are not favorable to flowers.

All sorts of utensils were used to pot the plants. From some of the more opulent homes came earthenware flower pots; from others colored papers to cover the vessel which held the earth, while some of the plants bloomed gayly in pickings from the ash pile.

After the ribbons had been placed by the committee, the children from the different grades were allowed to come up and inspect the glories.

One morsel of humanity named "Joey," who had raised a thrifty nasturtium in a rusty tin can, sold the fruit of his labors for 10 cents, double the price he had quoted it, having offered it to the lady, after much embarrassment for 5 cents.

Below are given the names of the prize winners who will receive their gifts soon.
