

JEWISH WEDDING HELD

Popular Young Couple Plighted Their Troth According to Rites of Jewish Church,

Last evening one of the most interesting weddings of the season took place in the Assembly halls, when a large company of friends and relatives gathered to witness the marriage service uniting Miss Jennie Siegel, charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Siegel, and Max Mandelsohn, a prominent young business man.

The ceremony took place at 7 o'clock the bridal party appearing as the strains of the wedding march pealed forth played by Miss Etta Levitz. The flower girls, little Misses Pearlle and Mina Siegel, lead the procession and were followed by the bridegroom and his best man, H. Mandelsohn. The bride came next looking very lovely in a handsome gown of white mes-saline and carrying bride's roses. She was lead to the altar by her father and on her other side walked her mother. The bridesmaids, Misses Della Levitz and Gertrude Siegel came last accompanied by the ushers, Harris Rubel and Leo Siegel. The ringbearer, little Miss Gertrude Hartstein preceded the bride. The vows were exchanged beneath a beautiful floral canopy and Rabbis Levine and Lask officiated.

Following the ceremony congratulations were offered and a little later a banquet was served in the diningroom of the hall, covers being laid for 200. The dining room was most attractive with lilies and carnations and there were three large tables so arranged that the bride and bridegroom were seated at the honored position at the head of the middle table.

After the last course of the banquet and the happy couple had been duly toasted the wedding festivities were continued until midnight. Dancing was the entertainment and one of the popular city orchestras furnished excellent music.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Mandelsohn of Minneapolis, Mrs. Mandelsohn, mother of the bridegroom, and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Seigel of Superior, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Mandelsohn will make Fargo their home and they were showered with an exquisite array of gifts and with many happy well wishes.
