

MORE MYSTERY FOR THE POLICE

---

Did the Thief That Stole Wagon
Also Purloin Mrs. Lovegren's Chickens.

• The prize for forehanded ideas is due to a thief who operated in the vicinity of Fourth street and Hammond avenue Wednesday night, if the theories of amateur sleuths concerning two depredations reported yesterday to the police prove to be well founded.

Sam Chucker, 415 Hughitt avenue, complained to the police that some time during the night a thief had made off with a wagon which he had on the place, and that he has not been able to trace the missing vehicle. Shortly after Chucker had called up, a Mrs. Lovegren, residing at 418 Cumming avenue, located in the next block, telephoned that a thief had made off with 18 of her best chickens during the night, having broken open the hen house.

The police are investigating both cases and making no comments, but the several amateur Sherlock Holmes of the neighborhood are wondering if the thief at both places was not one and the same. They had it figured out that he went to get the wagon first and then loaded the chickens into it after they had been stolen.
