Shows Local Fur House.

The current issue of Fur Trade Review of New York shows a three column photo of Beckman's Fur store, Duluth, as one of the representative fur houses of the northwest. This paper is the official organ of the fur
trade and the compliment to Beckman's
is a marked one.

City Hall Offices Decorated

A crew of workmen engaged in repairing the offices in the city hall, completed the work yesterday. The office of the health department, the assessor, the tuberculosis committee,
the board of works and the city clerk
were fixed up and now present a smart appearance.

Society Had Busy Month.

August was a busy month for the humane society. R. D. McFarcher, humane agent, investigated 33 cases. Out of this number 32 cases concerned deserted wives, abused and neglected children.

Sent to Fergus Falls.

Matt Ollila, 46 years old, was sent to the state insane asylum at Fergus Falls yesterday by Judge Gilpin of the probate court. Alfred Ollila, the son, filed the information saying that his father had requested to be killed.

Students to Give Recital.

Under auspices of their parents the pupils of Williams' Violin school will give a program Sunday night at Kalamazoo hall at 8:15. The parents taking an interest in the concert are: S. Singer, J. Silver, Finkelstein, S. Cohen, M. Greene, Isadore Price, T. Weinstein and J. Landahl.

Wants to Find Brother.

Samuel Ball of 530 Oldfield street, Alpena, Mich., has written the police department regarding the whereabouts of his brother, Henry Hall, formerly a resident of this city at 2721 Huron street. The writer says he received a letter from his brother Dec. 29, 1911, but has not since heard from him in spite of frequent communications. The last letter said that Henry was ill and was doubtful of his recovery.

Figures Not Exaggerated.

"After a flying business trip of two weeks in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, I came back to Minnesota by way of St. Paul and took in the state fair," said Victor Gran, a local attorney, last night. "The thing that impressed me most was the big number of people on the grounds the opening day. I understand that there were 115,000 paid admissions on that day, and from the size of the crowd at the time I was there, the figure is no exaggeration."

New Norwegian Lodge.

At a meeting of Norwegians to be held next Friday evening at the Forsters' hall, Fourth avenue West and First street a new Sons of Norway lodge will be instituted. Officers will also be elected. A number of the prospective members of the new lodge met recently and elected H. H. Borgen, temporary chairman and O. John Rue secretary. The lodge will be fully organized at its next meeting.
