MUSIC

Duluth Musician Will Conduct Christmas Messiah Performance at Minneapolis

A Duluth musician has been honored with an invitation to conduct the Christmas performance of Handel's Messiah in the auditorium at Minneapolis, given by the Philharmonica society of that city and assisted by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. The man selected out of the many musical leaders of Minnesota is Horace W. Reyner, organist and choir director of the First M. E. church. His invitation was received yesterday from C. E. Fisher, president of the Philharmonica society, and it will probably be accepted as it will in no way interfere with his work here.

The Minneapolis chorus numbers 250 voices and in conducting the work Mr. Reyner will have the assistance of the magnificent orchestra and a quartet of first rank oratorio singers.

From the time the prospectus of the concert course instituted by Stephen H. Jones, F. W. Hugo and Horace W. Reyner was mailed to musical and society people the subscription list has grown daily until now the committee are confident that the series which include the Alice Nielsen-Riccardo Martin Operatic Concert company, the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra in a series of three concerts with Mme. Chilson-Ohrman as soloist, the recitals of Mme Frances Alda of the Metropolitan opera and Signor Alessandro Bouci will be the most successful that have ever been given in Duluth. The number of out of town subscribers has increased greatly, Superior leading with a large number. Cloquet, Virginia and other towns are represented, also.

The date of the Nielsen-Riccardo Martin company has been changed to Friday, Oct. 13, instead of Oct. 16, previously announced. There will be no further change of dates. The program for the Nielsen-Riccardo Martin company will be a magnificent one. Nielsen and Martin are going to give a duet from Madame Butterfly and the company will do scenes in costume, from the Barber of Seville and Don Pasquale.

Martin will sing the tenor aria from "Tosca" and Nielsen will sing a big aria and a group of English songs. The complete program will be announced shortly.

The important feature of the Minneapolis orchestra concert will be the choral work of the Duluth Festival Chorus, who will give short numbers with the orchestra. The March and Chorus from Tannhauser has been decided upon and other numbers will be announced shortly.

The subscription list will close Oct. 1. Seats are allotted the moment subscriptions are received and there are plenty of good seats yet to be obtained. Mr. Reyner can be reached on the old phone and he will supply any information respecting the series.
