185 ENROLLED
AT THE NORMAL

Many More Students Expected.
Several States and Canada
Are Represented.

SOME CHANGES ARE MADE IN THE FACULTY

None of New Instructors Have Been Selected From This State.

One hundred and eighty-five students registered yesterday at the Duluth normal school. This is the largest number ever recorded on enrollment day, the majority usually waiting for the opening session of school.

Among the different states represented yesterday were Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Missouri, as well as various parts of Canada. A large number of pupils are expected, and from the present indications the enrollment will far exceed that of last year, which was about 344. The regular session will commence today. Several changes have been made in the faculty. The new teachers and their departments of work are as follows: Miss Ruth Babcock of the Brooklyn training school for teachers in New York, kindergarten department; Miss May Chapman of Cleveland, Ohio, succeeds Miss Palmer in the third and fourth year work of the training department; Miss Mary Abigail Jack of Mexico, Mo., succeeds Miss Ethel Mac Low in reading and expression; Prof. J. A. Owens of Chicago, supervisor of the training department; Prof. Eugene Van Cleeve of Chicago, geography and physics; Miss Marjorie Strong of New York city, English.

OCCURS AT SYNAGOGUE

A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon at the synagogue, 223 East Fifth street, when Miss Dorothy Polinsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Polinsky, 1124 East Sixth street, became the wife of Joseph Wolfe of this city. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock, by Rabbi Klissin, assisted by Rev. Teplitz in the presence of a large number of friends.

The bride wore a gown of duchesse satin, trimmed with real lace and her bouquet was a shower of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was Miss Dolly Polinsky, a sister of the bride. She was attired in white tulle with a gown of pink and held an arm bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Florence Levine, gowned in pink chiffon over silk of the same shade, and Miss Sadie Foster, who wore a costume of lavender chiffon over silk. They carried pink and white roses. David Weinberg of Eveleth, Leo Troup of Virginia and Roy Levine were Mr. Wolfe's attendants. The ushers were Messrs. Stern, Bert Stern, and Jacob Cohen. A dinner followed at the Masonic Temple, where three hundred covers were laid. La Brosse furnished the music. Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe will be at home at 1124 East Sixth street for the present.

JOHNSON-VINCE WEDDING IS A PRETTY AFFAIR

The home of George Martin, 2130 East Third street, was the scene last evening of a pretty wedding, when his niece, Miss Pearl Louise Johnson of this city, became the bride of Wellington Vince. The wedding service was read by Rev. A. W. Ryan of St. Paul's Episcopal church, in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffon over rose silk, and her flowers were Killarney roses. The maid of honor, Miss Mabel Johnson, a sister of the bride, was daintily attired in white tulle with a gown of delicate lace. She carried a bouquet of white sweet peas. Stephen Dingman served as best man. Miss Olive Krieger played the wedding march.

In the living room, where the ceremony was performed, an exquisite altar was formed of masses of delicate white flowers, ferns and palms and lighted with tall altar candles. The dining room and hall were bright with glowing glow, and in the sun room the summer guests were seated. Mr. and Mrs. Vince left for their short wedding tour and upon their return will be at home at No. 8 Chester terrace.

EAST END CHILDREN
PRESENT FAIRY PLAY

A group of East End children delighted a large audience last evening at the home of Mrs. T. D. Merrill, 2626 Greysen road, with a fairy play entitled, "The Lost Prince." The affair, which was a success financially as well as socially, was given under the direction of Mrs. F. A. Patrick for the benefit of "Life's Fresh Air Fund."

This fund is maintained by that magazine for the purpose of sending little children out of the country where they can get pure fresh air to help to give them new life and strength.

Among the participants were: Eleanor Mitchell, Katherine Abbott, Penelope Turle, Betty Merrill, Mary Cotton, Ruby Britts, Josephine Cotton and John Abbott.

HELDUND-ANDERSON.
Miss Florence E. Heldund and Martin E. Anderson were quietly married yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the rectory of St. Paul's Episcopal church in the presence of a few intimate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left on the Minnesota for a visit in Chicago and later will be at home in this city.

CENTRAL AUXILIARY.
The members of the Central auxiliary of the First Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Pryor of Woodland. The ladies are asked to board the 11 o'clock car at the corner of Twenty-fourth avenue east and Fourth street. A basket luncheon will be served.

B. AND N. CLUB.
The members of the B. and N. club of the First Baptist church will be entertained this evening at the home of Miss Clymer, 1107 East Second street.

LADIES' GUILD.
A general meeting of the Ladies' guild of the Endon Methodist church will be held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the church parlors.

AID SOCIETY.
The Ladies' Aid society of St. Paul's German Evangelical church will meet with Mrs. Charles Ottlinger, 1217 East Fourth street tomorrow afternoon.

Amusements

AT THE ORPHEUM

Nat M. Wills, "the happy tramp," was once a student of theology. "My father was a minister and I was in my third year of the study course when I gave it up," says Mr. Wills, who is at the Orpheum this week.

"No, I was not expelled. I simply did a little thinking on the monetary side of the situation and decided to quit. I had written home for money with which to purchase a much needed suit of clothes, and my poor father replied in a letter punctuated with curses that he could not afford to purchase the suit for me. Then I packed up my few belongings and went home. I concluded that when a man as good and as learned as my father could not get money enough from his calling to buy his only son a suit of clothes, he was not fit to be followed in his footsteps. Of course, my father was a country minister, and I do not refer to the salaries received by New York preachers.

"In my judgment the stage has its good and bad effect just about the same as any other institution has. A person is inherently good the stage cannot make him bad, and on the other hand the stage never reformed any natural born rascal."

AT THE LYCEUM

In the role of Jules, the young French Canadian guide in "The Wolf," Mr. Forbes has chosen a romantic and heroic figure for the farewell performance of his first performance at the Lyceum by the Gus A. Forbes stock company. "The Wolf" will be repeated every evening this week and at a Saturday matinee. The Saturday night performance closes the summer engagement of the most popular stock company which has ever appeared in the city. The advance sale of all of the concluding performances has been large.

Indeed, every member of the casts will have the finest opportunity of the summer in "The Wolf." Frederick Van Rensselaer will appear as Taviash, a stern and forbidding old Scotsman, harsh in his judgments of his own, aloof and almost cruel in his ideas of justice. Mr. Van Rensselaer will appear as Taviash, a stern and forbidding old Scotsman, harsh in his judgments of his own, aloof and almost cruel in his ideas of justice.

Edwin Brandt who has been the villain off and on all summer will make his farewell as a villain which comes rather a pity, for in the character for which the wolf is taken as the symbol by the author there is little to admire but opportunity for intelligent and interesting portrayal of character.

Ray Phillips will have a role in "The Wolf" as congenial as the one in which he made his debut before the Duluth theater-goers in "The Bachelor." His comedy is remembered with pleasure by the stock company patrons. Perry Golden as an interesting old French character and Miss Jane Stuart as Hilda, daughter of Mr. Taviash, complete the cast of what should be the best play of the summer.

AT THE EMPRESS

Carlyle Moore, who, with Ethelyn Palmer, is offering the tabloid comedy drama at the Empress theater this week, relates a few experiences, grave and gay, in connection with his profession:

Those who saw their first vaudeville presentation in this city, will remember it as a swash-buckling romantic comedy, in which three men fought a fierce duel with rapier. It was a realistic bit, not only in appearance but in fact, as the swords used were genuine "Solingen" rapiers, so sharp that they would cut a sheet of paper, this applied particularly to the points. When Mr. Moore and Miss Palmer first presented this act at the Fifth avenue theater in New York, they unfortunately were breaking in a new heavyman who was not quite adept with the rapier, and at the very tensest moment of the fight when Mr. Moore with a quick turn of the wrist

Much interest is centered on mayonaise lotion for the painless removal of rough or dead outer cuticle, thus permitting the soft, velvety, pink and white new skin to peep forth in its exquisite youthful bloom. With the aid of this lotion, wrinkles and blotches are banished, the skin is freed of pimples and blackheads, and a complexion once sallow and unlife-like is given the natural health-glow and freshness of young womanhood.

This lotion, which is inexpensive, is made by dissolving an original package of mayonaise in 8 ounces with hazel. With it the face, neck and hands are gently massaged each day, and soon the skin grows clear, firm and beautiful. The mayonaise lotion is greaseless and will prevent, as well as discourage, the growth of hairs.

Ruth Cameron's Daily Talk

"It reminded me," said the lady-who-always-knows-somewhat, "of something a maid I had when I was first married said to me."

The lady-who-always-knows-somewhat had been in to call on a neighbor of ours who had just come back from a long visit. She had been telling us how enthusiastic this woman's daughter was at her return, and how she could not seem to do enough for her mother. This was a new character for her mother.

She has the reputation of being a decidedly selfish girl who lets her mother wait on her by inches and rewards her with rudeness and impatience.

We expressed our interest as to what the girl's spasm of exuberant appreciation reminded the lady-who-always-knows-somewhat of, and the lady went on:

"It was one time when I was housecleaning. I wanted to get everything clean together for once, and I'd been working hard enough to kill myself and I just gave out and had to go to bed. I had a jolly little Irish girl, just over, for a maid, and when she brought me up my tea that night she said, 'Sure, darlint, I think y'll have to be after doing your cleaning more like the robins feed their young.'"

"And how is that?" I said. "A little at a time and oftener." "How many things that would simplify besides housecleaning?"

How often we try to pay debts of kindness or gratitude in a lump—at Christmas-time, perhaps—when the payment could so much better be made "as the robins feed their young."

How often we try to make up for months of some neglected duty in a day or two, when the only real way to atone is "as the robins feed their young."

How often we try to acquire accomplishments or qualities of character by a spasm of intense and prolonged effort, whereas the only real way to acquire most things worth acquiring is by efforts made "as the robins feed their young."

The world outdoors has many lessons for us. Animal and vegetable life have many wise words to say to us of serenity, of patience and of self-control. If we will but listen.

But few, I think, are wiser than the robin's lesson as translated by the little Irish girl.

Grant us in this impatient life to still remember that there are many, many things which can best be done "as the robins feed their young, a little at a time and oftener."

Ruth Cameron

Uncle Walt—The Poet Philosopher

It happened once upon a day, a wicked man was sent to jail; he trod the hard transgression's way, and swiped an AND OUT good fall of kale. They put him in a cozy cell, with books to cheer his solitude; they washed him and they fed him well, and he grew fat on prison food. He had no trouble on his mind, no worry o'er the bills to pay; removed from life's sad, beastly grind, he beamed with smiles the livelong day. In a dreary, dismal shack, his wife was toiling at the tub, with aching heart and aching back, to buy her wretched children grub. And often at the close of day, she went to bed, to moan and sob, and wonder, in her feeble way, if God was really on her job. This is the justice that obtains in this fool world through which we reel; we give the sinner alken chains, and break his children on the wheel. We put the convict in his cell, and place light burdens on his back, and give him books and feed him well, and stretch his wife upon the rack.

HEALTHY MOTHERS

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.
