

Soldier, by the chorus, and a beautiful soprano solo by Elizabeth Donovan entitled "Planning."

Preceding the performance and between acts, Henry Lavick's orchestra rendered a program of popular music. Miss Lydia Arndt and Henry Lavick were obliged to respond to encores following their piano and violin solos which were greatly enjoyed.

Following are the names of ~~the~~ young people who took part in the play:

at the banquet will go among young business women to secure 500 new memberships at $1 apiece, making a contribution of $500 toward the $8,000 and, what is considered more important, securing for 500 girls who have not before had them, the privileges of the association.

Mrs. W. A. McGonagle was called on to address the girls but said that she expected to be talking for the next eight days and so would save up for the task.

This morning the campaign for $8,000, in which 100 women in ten teams will participate, will begin, and the campaign for 500 members, carried on by the business girls will go on at the same time.
