

THE EMPRESS

"The Sunny Side of Broadway," at the Empress this week, is proving a big card for this popular house. Contrary to the usual bookings, the piece is there for the entire week, and promises to hold out as a favorite to the last.

Max Bloom is enough in himself, but he has a clever company in his support so that the show is well worth seeing. Bloom is considered one of the cleverest Hebrew comedians on the stage, and in supplying his own brand of humor he scores doubly hard.
