SPLENDID CROPS, MUCH BUILDING

W. D. GILLESPIE RETURNS AFTER BUSY TRIP IN THE WEST—LET MANY CONTRACTS AND REPORTS THAT BUSINESS IS BOOMING.

Returning from a trip through the western part of this state and in Montana, W. D. Gillespie, of the firm of Haxby & Gillespie, architects and superintendents, reports great building progress in all sections.

The following contracts for new buildings were awarded at Alexander, McKensie county:

The general contract for a new high school was awarded to Peter Beaulieu of Fairview, Mont., at $26,500, and the contract for the heating, wiring, etc., was let to McDermott & Greenhields at $4,350.

This building will be faced with pressed brick, hardwood floors, fine ventilation and lights and up-to-date in every respect. It will add much to the convenience of the young people of that town, as they propose to carry a full four-year high school course, the only one in that county.

Mr. Gillespie also let the contract for a new school the following day at Arnegard, McKensie county. This is a new town built up in the last ten months and it speaks well for the enterprise of these progressive citizens that they take such an interest in educational matters. They have secured five acres adjoining the town which will make a beauty spot when properly laid out and propose making agriculture a strong feature of their school work. The general contract for this building was awarded to Link & Eberheim of Williston at $11,530, and the heating, etc., to Grambs & Peet at $1,567.

Mr. Gillespie went from Arnegard to Sidney, Mont., where he let the contract for the new hospital building at that place.

Sidney has recently won out in a county division fight and has been named as the permanent county seat, and being a good town before, it will make it the leading town of the famous Yellowstone valley. The contract for this building was awarded to A. B. Kapfke of Sidney at $21,000, and the plumbing and heating, wiring, etc., to the Valley Hardware Co. at $5,000.

This building is fireproof throughout and will be three stories, thoroughly modern and up-to-date, and will be a very decided advantage to the town which has long felt the need of such a building.

Mr. Gillespie reports crop conditions as very fine in that section, a very fine crop of alfalfa harvested in the Yellowstone valley and as fine wheat and other crops in McKensie and Willam counties as in any section of the state.

THE DEMOCRATS ATTACKS

said to be growing in favor, however, and Senator Reed was drawing a resolution on the subject when the senate adjourned.

Senator Reed said the "unfair competition" section of the trade commission bill would dispel public sentiment in favor of trust legislation without giving the people a single remedy not already accorded them by the courts. Moreover, he believed the people never would sanction a bill which would place the business of the country in the control of a board governed by no rules of conduct except its own conception of right and wrong.

Senators Newlands and Sausbury of the Interstate commerce committee repeatedly urged Senator Reed to suggest amendments to the trade bill to make it more specific.

Senator Nelson, another member of the judiciary committee, attacked the trade commission bill as merely "nibbling" at the trust problem while pretending to solve the entire problem. He said the unfair competition section would act as a protection to trusts, which had felt the uncomfortable effect of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Senator Newlands demanded a vote on the unfair competition section, so that the country might know if the senators were in favor of preventing big concerns driving out of business little competitors before the big concerns reached the stage of monopoly. Senator Borah said the Sherman anti-trust law, as interpreted by the supreme court, prohibited acts tending to monopolize as well as monopolies.

"There is plenty of law," he insisted. "What we need is somebody to enforce it. What we need is to put a few big fellows where they belong."

"In place of honor," interrupted Senator Nelson, who is strongly opposing the confirmation of Thomas D. Jones, a director of the International Harvester Co., as a member of the
