

NEW YEAR BALL AT KITCHI GAMMI

Brilliant Gathering at Formal
Opening of Duluth's New Club House.

MANY DINNER PARTIES PRECEDED THE DANCING

Palatial Rooms Thrown Open for Inspection by Families of Members.

The most picturesque function of the winter took place last night, when the new home of the Kitchi Gammil club was formally opened with the New Year ball. The opening of the palatial club building, which had been anticipated eagerly, brought out the patriarchs as well as the juniors of society, and gave a brilliant beginning to the social season of 1914.

All parts of the building were thrown open for inspection, and the privilege was accepted eagerly by the wives and daughters of members, as the rooms planned exclusively for masculine enjoyment will be held inviolate from feminine visits hereafter.

The beautiful cloisene vase, presented by George W. Crosby, was the cynosure of admiring eyes, and another vase of cloisene, beautiful in design and workmanship, has been presented by George G. Barnum.

No special decorations were planned, the beauty of design and furnishing needing nothing to enhance their charm. In the main cafe, the ladies' cafe, and the smaller dining rooms the tables were bright with the planned red and green cloisene, and here innumerable dinner parties gathered, preceding the dancing.

Among those entertaining at dinner were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Marshall, with 24 guests. Mrs. Marshall's table was specially decorated with the holiday blossoms, in red and green. Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Comstock had 14 guests, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Peyton, 16; Mr. and Mrs. Seth Marshall, 15; Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Stratford, 10; Mr. and Mrs. G. Hartley, eight; Mr. and Mrs. W. Walker, eight; Mr. and Mrs. George A. French, seven; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Crosby, six; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Pearson, five; Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Frick, six; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. DeWitt, eight; Mr. and Mrs. George G. Barnum, five; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Madden, eight; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Killion, four; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Patrick, three; Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Goodman, three; Mr. and Mrs. George C. Stone, eight; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Myers, six; Mr. and Mrs. F. Whyte, six; Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Chase, four; Mr. and Mrs. George L. Cheebrough, four; Mr. and Mrs. George D. Swift, four; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. McCarthy, four; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stewart, four; Roy Higgins, eight; R. S. Patrick, four; L. B. Arnold, four; A. M. McDougal, four.

A delightful feature of the dinner hour was the music by the Scottish Mite quartet that went from dining room to dining room as dinner progressed, giving a program of songs.

Dancing took place in the main cafe, which was transformed into a ballroom at the close of dinner, and in the large reading and lounging room, while the magnificent reception hall was given to the promenaders.

Among the dancers were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Agstin, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Agnew, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Ames Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. F. S.
